WAREHOUSE DESTROYED BY FIRE

Growers' Supply Co. Ltd., warehouse on Clement Avenue is a total loss following an early evening fire Saturday from unknown causes. Thirty-five firemen from the Kelowna Fire Department answered the general alarm at 8 p.m., but had no chance to save the one-storey, wood-frame structure which contained sulphur products, barrels and straw. Flames from the blaze could be seen by firemen from the intersection

Paper Attacks Trudeau Over Visit By Kosygin

LONDON (CP) — The Daily Telegraph has made a stinging editorial attack on Prime Minister Trudeau in connection with the current Canadian visit of Soviet Premier Kosygin.

Trudeau "has made such anti-American capital out of Mr. Kosygin's visit... that he seems set on becoming a kind of Western Tito," the London newspaper says in a reference to the neutralist-inclined president of Yugoslavia.

The Telegraph contends that Kosygin "naturally took his cue in Canada from Mr. Trudeau's outrageous statement in Moscow recently that Canada feared American economic and military domination."

"He also took advantage of an invitation to address a joint Commons-Senate external affairs committee to slander Britain over Northern Ireland."

The Conservative-supporting Telegraph says that "Trudeau seems to have convinced himself—and many Canadians likewise—embarrassed by the dependence on America which will always be Canada's most jealously-guarded birthright—that relations with Russia can indeed become as close as with America."

The paper then asks two questions about the thinking of Canadians:

"Do they really believe that relations with a closed, iron-curtain dictatorship are as easy as with America, with all her faults?"

"How long do they think Canada could defend her vast riches without America's shield?"

The security crackdown on homes in Toronto prior to Kosygin's arrival there was given first place on one of the main national television newscasts in Britain Sunday night, topping in prominence even the latest crisis in Northern Ireland.

In Paris, meanwhile, the newspaper Le Monde noted what it calls Kosygin's offer to buy Canadian industrial equipment, notably computers.

"This was a way of replying to the restrictions imposed by Washington on (American) imports of industrial products," Le Monde says.

Traffic Mishaps Kill 8 In B.C. During The Weekend

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

At least 10 persons died accidentally in British Columbia during the weekend, eight of them in traffic mishaps.

Five young persons died when a convertible slammed into a concrete lane divider in North Vancouver, a man was mauled to death by a bear and a youth died following a hunting accident.

Frederick Miles Harper, 29, and Patricia Kathleen Moyer, 6, both of North Vancouver, and Vancouver brothers Percy Harvey Charles, 21, and Clarence Andrew Charles, 21, died early Saturday when a convertible slammed into a concrete divider at the north end of Second Narrows Bridge in Vancouver Harbor.

W. Williams, 27, of North Vancouver died later in hospital. Sylvia Lester, 21, of North Vancouver was reported in critical condition.

Harold Olson, in his 70s, was mauled to death by a bear Saturday as he blazed a trail through the bush near Tonko Lake, 70 miles east of Prince George.

YOUTH KILLED

Dale Wiley, 13, of Stoner Creek died in hospital in Vancouver Friday night of a bullet wound to the back of his head. He had been hunting.

Frank Cook, 25, of Prince George, died early Sunday when the car he was driving collided with a cattle truck about six miles east of the city.

Emily Groltz, 49, of Langley, died Friday night in a collision between a station wagon and a semi-trailer truck on the Fraser Highway. Three other persons were taken to hospital.

A middle-aged man was killed Sunday when he was struck by a car while crossing the highway near New Westminster. Police said he carried no identification.

Rutland Youth One Of 11 Killed In Two-Car Crash

CALGARY (CP) — Five teenagers from Alberta and one from British Columbia were on their way to a wedding when they were killed in a two-car collision west of Walla Walla, Wash., Sunday.

Don Bais, a friend of the Canadians, said in a telephone interview from his home in Coleridge, Wash., the teenagers visited him Saturday, then for the wedding in Pasco, 100 miles from Walla Walla.

Seven persons were killed in collision, the worst passenger car accident in Washington history, including five members of the Walla Walla families.

The Canadians were riding in a 1965 car that collided with a model U.S. vehicle on a looping curve about 22 miles west of Walla Walla.

The Albertans killed were Crystal Schultz, 18, Calgary; Coleen Kennedy, 17, Lacombe; Roy Thompson, about 19, Rocky Mountain House; Cathy Timms, 19, Leslieville, and Heather Bell, 19, Caroline. Dale Long, 18, of Rutland, B.C. also was killed.

Mr. Bais said Miss Kennedy and Miss Bell were to participate in the wedding ceremony. Miss Bell survived the crash but died later in hospital.

The bride, Helea Johnson, was formerly dean of girls at the Canadian Union College near Lacombe about 100 miles north of Calgary.

The U.S. persons killed were identified as Lee Craig, 26, his wife Carrie, and their son Kevin, about 8; Donna Clark and her 14-year-old son, Clifford. The Craigs' other son, Kenneth, 10, was reported in critical condition.

Brezhnev Visiting Paris

PARIS (CP) — Leonid I. Brezhnev arrived here today on his first trip to the West since taking over the leadership of the Soviet Communist party in 1964. French security forces stood on alert for anti-Soviet demonstrations during the visit which ends Saturday.

President Georges Pompidou greeted Brezhnev at the airport and the Soviet leader was given a 101-gun salute, an honor usually reserved for heads of state.

Brezhnev seems to be emerging as the main spokesman of the Soviet Union in its dealings with the West.

As Brezhnev was arriving, about 40 Jewish students occupied the offices of the French-Soviet Friendship Association and hung up about 40 posters calling for a demonstration Thursday and demanding the right for Jews to emigrate "massively" to Israel from the Soviet Union.

Typhoon Kills More Than 80 In Vietnam

SAIGON (CP) — Typhoon Hester killed more than 80 persons and left tens of thousands of Vietnamese homeless while doing heavy damage to U.S. bases.

Many of the U.S. helicopter fleet in South Vietnam was crippled when the typhoon struck during the weekend and destroyed or damaged at least 125 helicopters and planes.

Thirty-three South Vietnamese civilians and soldiers were killed when their military transport plane crashed Sunday 270 miles north of Saigon, military sources said.

The sources said only one person—an army doctor—survived the crash five miles west of the central coastal port of Qui Nhon.

The sources said the C-47 Dakota was flying from Da Nang to Saigon when it ran into bad weather.

The crash brought to 83 the number of soldiers and civilians killed since Typhoon Hester, with winds of more than 140 miles an hour, ripped through northern South Vietnam.

Trains Collide Death Toll 13

TSU, Japan (Reuters) — Rescue workers reported at least 13 dead and 188 injured in a head-on collision of two express trains in a tunnel near here today.

Police said two of the dead were the drivers of the expresses.

Rescue parties were reported to have reached the remote mountainous accident site and began hacking through a tangle of metal in the tunnel to bring out the injured.

The collision occurred on the private Kinki railway and involved a seven-coach train headed by Osaka and a four-coach train bound for Nagoya.

Railway officials said about 500 passengers were believed aboard the two trains.

Reports from the scene said the Osaka-bound train, thought to be carrying about 100 passengers, was inside the tunnel.

The Nagoya-bound express, with about 400 on board, was half in the tunnel, the railway said.

The collision occurred on a single track line in a mountain tunnel near the hot springs resort of Sakakibara.

Davis Warns Oil Companies They Must Protect Ecology

VANCOUVER (CP) — Oil firms working on Sable Island must ensure minimum damage is done to the island's ecology, Environment Minister Jack Davis said today.

Speaking to the annual western meeting of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy, he said the public is concerned about the ecological effects of resource development.

"Perhaps the biggest single confrontation we face is far out in the Atlantic on Sable Island. Oil has been found there. It has been found, perhaps in vast quantities, on a little outpost of our far-flung Canadian empire which naturalists would like to think belongs exclusively to the Ipswich Sparrow."

"Disturb the habitat of this 'endangered' species and you're going to be in trouble. Wipe it out and you're going to attract the wrath of people who have never been on this side of the Atlantic Ocean, let alone had an understanding of what the finding of oil offshore can mean to the tens of thousands of Maritimers whose average income places them among the poorest of the poor on this generally wealthy North American continent of ours."

Even if the province of Nova Scotia is successful in its claim to the mineral rights on Sable Island, Mr. Davis said, his department is economically sound in "protecting the rich natural history of the island—the Ipswich Sparrow, thousands of other migratory birds, a few hundred wild horses and a beautiful, fragile and unique sand dune complex."

Mr. Davis said the environment can be protected through industry-government co-operation and enlightened long-range planning by industry.

"What is economically sound for the total community in the long run also is sound from a long-range environmental point of view."

Canadian Nuclear Station Toured By Soviet Premier

TORONTO (CP) — Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin, sporting a hard hat, toured Canada's largest nuclear power station today and seemed to be completely at home.

Mr. Kosygin chatted casually with workers and asked technical questions during his 85-minute tour of the Ontario Hydro plant in Pickering 10 miles east of here. His Canadian tour ends today and he flies to Cuba Tuesday morning.

He also took the opportunity to get in a plug for Russia's policy of peaceful co-existence.

"My country is fighting for peace, and anyone who says otherwise is wrong," he told Bill Scott, one of the several workers with whom he spoke.

"He asked me about my work," said Joe Rizutto, another plant employee.

Mr. Kosygin, whose hard hat was inscribed A. Kosygin, had a long conversation with Ron Acheson, first operator in a huge control room.

Mr. Acheson said the Soviet premier seemed more interested in Mr. Acheson himself than in his work.

"You are a good fellow," said Mr. Kosygin jovially as he ended his conversation with Mr. Acheson.

Plant manager Elgin Horton said Mr. Kosygin asked "technically oriented" questions and obviously knew something about the operation of an atomic power plant.

Mr. Horton said he told the premier Ontario had bought heavy water used in the atomic process from Russia, and Mr. Kosygin said Russia would be happy to sell more.

He said the Soviet premier also said it was desirable to have an interchange of technology and materials between Russia and Canada.

Upon his arrival at the plant, Mr. Kosygin was greeted by George Gathercole, chairman of Ontario Hydro, and Loren Gray, president of Atomic Energy of Canada Ltd. Senator Paul Martin accompanied Mr. Kosygin on the tour.

Two Toronto Men Arrested When Found With Weapons

TORONTO (CP) — An iron-clad curtain of security surrounded Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin upon his arrival here Sunday night after a busy day in Western Canada.

Police cordoned off a section of Toronto International Airport prior to his arrival here. Reporters covering the event were checked at least twice for accreditation and identification.

Demonstrators didn't stand a chance of getting close to the hangar where the Canadian Forces Boeing 707 taxied in during a wind-whipped rainstorm.

And it was doubtful the 67-year-old Soviet leader caught a glimpse of about 200 demonstrators at the Inn on the Park where he occupied a $160-a-day suite Sunday night.

He will occupy the same suite—carpeted with deep shag rugs and equipped with two 26-inch color television sets—tonight as his departure to Cuba was set back from 10 tonight to 8 a.m. Tuesday.

Security was intense on the last leg of his nine-day Canadian tour as Mr. Kosygin arrived amid reports that an attempt was to be made on his life. Following a tip, Toronto police carried out raids on 18 homes and seized an arsenal of loaded weapons plus knives and bayonets.

Two Toronto men were arrested. Gerald Doyle, 18, was charged with possession of a restricted weapon and possession of an offensive weapon.

Kenneth Wilson, 27, was charged with one count of possession of an explosive substance, two charges of possession of restricted weapons and one count of possession of stolen goods valued at more than $50.

Toronto Police Chief Harold Adamson, who described the raids as the stiffest security measures here in recent years, said the action was taken "within the law for the safety of all—the safety of the visit as well as the public."

At the airport, Mr. Kosygin's jet taxied to a hangar about two miles away from the public terminal.

Wearing a heavy overcoat and black homburg hat, he stepped from the plane and briefly shook hands with federal Defence Minister Donald Macdonald and Ivan Head, special assistant to Prime Minister Trudeau.

Also welcoming him were provincial Municipal Affairs Minister Dalton Bales and Metropolitan Chairman Albert Campbell. Mr. Bales said in an interview later that the Soviet leader only said "hello" before he entered a black limousine flanked by six motorcycle officers.

Airport Hangar Sealed

The motorcade sped away into the persistent rain to the hotel. Police were stationed strategically along the route. Both entrances to the airport hangar were sealed.

About 1,500 police were involved in the combined operation of receiving Mr. Kosygin at the airport and ringing his hotel where the motorcade drove past about 200 shouting demonstrators.

The demonstrators—representing the Canadian Jewish Congress, the Jewish Defence League, the right-wing Edmund Burke Society and a number of ethnic organizations—gathered about four hours before Mr. Kosygin's arrival.

They sang Jewish songs and chanted "One, two, three, four, open up the iron door."

Others carried signs saying "Let my people go," "Bulgaria for the Bulgarians" and "Kosygin go home."

Reporters covering the demonstration had difficulty returning to the hotel despite their press credentials. Others were frisked.

Everybody who entered the hotel was subjected to a search of his car. Police maintained a vigil throughout the night.

It was not known whether the assassination threat had anything to do with it but Mr. Kosygin cancelled a scheduled visit today to the General Motors of Canada Ltd. truck assembly plant at Oshawa, Ont., 25 miles east of here.

However, he still planned to visit the Ontario Hydro nuclear generating plant at Pickering, Ont., which is much closer to Toronto.

A press aide told reporters that the Soviet said he felt that Mr. Kosygin's itinerary for today was too crowded to accommodate the Oshawa visit.

Tonight he will speak at a $25-a-plate Canadian Manufacturers' Association dinner at the Ontario Science Centre here after a tour of the centre.

Chief Adamson said he was concerned about demonstrations planned by about 50,000 area Jews, Hungarians, Czechoslovaks and Ukrainians. He feared a "fanatical fringe" might try to incite trouble.

Keep Back 100 Yards

Security surrounding the premier's visit was stepped up following an incident a week ago in Ottawa when a man jumped on Mr. Kosygin as he walked with the prime minister on Parliament Hill.

Gera Matal, 27, of Toronto was charged with common assault after the attack. He was remanded in custody without plea to Nov. 2. A bail application hearing is scheduled for Tuesday, the day Mr. Kosygin leaves Canada.

Toronto police plan to keep curiosity-seekers and demonstrators at least 100 yards away from him.

BLOODY WEEKEND

Northern Ireland Death Toll Six

BELFAST (CP) — Northern Ireland's weekend toll of dead civilians stood at six today after police marksmen killed a terrorist and wounded his woman accomplice outside a Belfast night club.

The incident, resembling a gangster movie, happened outside the Celebrity Club, in the fashionable centre of Belfast, just before midnight Sunday night.

Plainclothes police opened fire on two men and a woman hurrying away from the club where they had just left a time bomb in the lobby. One of the men fell dying, the woman collapsed wounded and the second man ran off.

Shortly afterwards the bomb exploded, sending the club up in flames, but not before an army bomb disposal squad managed to get clear and club members had scrambled to safety through a back window.

It was the culmination of Ulster's worst weekend of violence in two months, bringing the death toll to 133 in more than two years of civil strife in Northern Ireland.

In the preceding 48 hours, troops shot dead two sisters in a car racing past army checkpoints in Belfast and killed three men suspected of trying to rob a bank, or bomb it, at Newry, by the border with the Irish Republic.

The deaths of the two women, who the army said were in a car from which shots were being fired at the troops, provoked bitter accusations by republicans and civil rights leaders against the army's methods and sparked off a series of violent incidents in Belfast.

Worse violence broke out in Newry Sunday after three men were shot and killed by troops who saw them apparently trying to carry out a robbery at a bank. The army said the men refused to stop after they were challenged, and the troops opened fire.

A day of rioting in Newry followed, and Sunday night the 30-foot flames of a blazing timber yard illuminated a cortege of more than 1,000 mourners following the coffin of one of the men, 19-year-old Sean Ruddy, through the rubble-strewn streets.

Similar processions followed the bodies of the two other men from the funeral parlor to their homes. Armed soldiers stood at every street corner with guns at the ready as the mourners, four or six abreast, marched past.

Early today the woman shot down outside Belfast's Celebrity Club was in hospital seriously wounded. A man detained near the scene of the club bombing was being questioned by police.

Snipers wounded five soldiers Sunday.

A policeman was shot in the head and critically wounded early today answering a knock on the door at his home.

In Newry, Bernadette Devlin, civil rights leader and a member of the British Parliament, told an angry crowd near the spot where the three suspected bank attackers were shot: "These British troops are murderers. The only time soldiers have the right to shoot robbers or any body else is under martial law."

Former president Lyndon B. Johnson says in his memoirs that the Communist Tet offensive in South Vietnam in 1968 was "by any standard, a military defeat of massive proportions for the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong. But the defeat did not have the telling effect it should have had largely because of what we did to ourselves," Johnson wrote in the eighth instalment of his memoirs published Sunday in the New York Times.

Bobby Fischer of the United States defeated Tigran Petrosian of the Soviet Union Sunday night in their eighth chess game, giving the American a virtually insurmountable lead in the 12-game series in Buenos Aires for the right to challenge for the world championship. Fischer now has won four games, including the last three, and Petrosian only one. The victory gives Fischer 5½ points to Petrosian's 2½, with 6½ points needed to win the tournament. The victory will meet world champion Boris Spassky of the Soviet Union next spring for the title. Petrosian resigned after the 40th move when Fischer mounted a strong mating attack.

President Nixon has cautioned Americans not to have any "unrealistic expectations" about his forthcoming trip to Moscow and Peking. Speaking on television on the eve of the U.S. Veterans' Day from Camp David, Md., Nixon said the United States is ending an unpopular war in Southeast Asia

"while moving to prevent" other wars in future. "My trips to Moscow and Peking are directed toward that goal," the president said. "We go with no false hopes, and we intend to leave behind us in America no unrealistic expectations."

American evangelist Billy Graham, visiting Rome for the first time, announced Saturday a "crusade" to bring tens of thousands of Protestants to Rome from around the world next year. Graham said there would be "an invasion" of Christians from Africa, Asia, Europe and North America at the time of the crusade. He said a million persons would pray and work in preparation for the meeting. Graham spoke to 2,000 Italian evangelical followers at the headquarters of the International Church in Rome.

Five children died early Sunday when a fire ripped through a two-storey wooden house in St. Henri De Levis, 15 miles southeast of Quebec City. Provincial police identified the victims as Serge Pomerleau, 12, his brother Richard, 9, and his sister Solange, 7, as well as Guylaine Gagnon, 14, and her sister Lyne, 12. The two Gagnon girls were visiting the Pomerleaus. Gerald Pomerleau was taken to hospital suffering from first-degree burns while his wife was suffering from shock. Their daughter, Claudette, was treated for third-degree burns and reported in satisfactory condition.

Josef Cardinal Mindszenty, whose 15 years of refuge in the United States mission in Budapest ended last month, flew to Vienna Saturday night to take up residence. Sources in Rome said Cardinal Mindszenty, 79, would live at a Hungarian seminary in Vienna. The cardinal arrived in Rome Sept. 28. The next day, Hungary granted him amnesty from a life prison term as an apparent concession for his leaving Hungary, where he had been the Roman Catholic primate. There was no indication, however, that Hungary had dropped a treason charge filed against the cardinal 22 years ago.

Vice-President Spiro T. Agnew returned to Washington Saturday from Greece, a country he said has "the spirit of freedom and the strength to preserve that freedom." Agnew spoke briefly during a joint appearance with Greek officials before his departure from Athens. He did not speak to reporters in Washington. Premier George Papadopoulos, whose authoritarian regime has encountered criticism at the U.S. state department and opposition in the U.S. Congress, led a delegation of officials bidding Agnew and his wife farewell.

An Anglican priest, Rev. Bernard Wrangmore, conducted communion at dawn in Cape Town Sunday and symbolically ended a 67-day protest fast. Wrangmore, his figure gaunt and emaciated, had to be helped to stand at the altar of St. Nicholas Sailors' church as he blessed the holy sacrament and swallowed a thin piece of communion wafer—his first solid food in more than two months. He then turned to administer the sacrament to the small multi-racial congregation of relatives and friends.

The quintuplets born to a young Israeli kindergarten teacher were in good condition Sunday, their second day of life, a spokesman for Hadassah Hospital in Jerusalem reported. Their chances for survival look normal, he added. The weights of the three girls and two boys ranged from one pound eight ounces to two pounds 14 ounces. Doctors consider one pound five ounces the minimum for a healthy birth. The mother, Mrs. Yitahk Herman, 22, also was reported in good condition.

Canadian law allows evidence gathered illegally by police to be used against an accused person and doesn't give much protection to the individual from being forced to give damaging evidence against himself, a panel of trial lawyers said Saturday in Toronto. Toronto lawyer Charles Dublin told a meeting of the Advocates' Society that persons in Canada can be forced to reveal incriminating evidence by mandatory appearance at government-sponsored royal commission and Ontario Securities Act hearings.

IWA Ends B.C. Convention With Organizing Funds

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Western Canada region of the International Woodworkers of America ended its annual convention without setting machinery in motion to raise badly needed funds to meet some of the union's more important objectives.

Regional president Jack Moore told delegates the region would have to "limp through the year" as best it could after a money-raising formula was defeated by the delegates to the convention.

Mr. Moore supported the proposal that the regional council increase the per capita tax from $1.05 per member per month to $1.30.

However, opposition forces led by Syd Thompson, president of the Vancouver local, recommended a formula under which each member would pay 25 cents a month into a defence and organizational fund.

The proposal specified the fund would be administered by the regional executive board which includes the executive council and the president of each of the locals.

Mr. Moore at first said he would have to support the Thompson's recommendations because they seemed to be the only avenue open to the required funds.

But after a late intermission, John Squire of Port Alberni found a loophole in the Thompson plan.

He said it was unconstitutional because it would have taken the administration of the fund out of the hands of the regional executive.

The proposal was then voted out of order by a close 72-65 margin.

Earlier in the convention, the region agreed to conduct a raiding war against the "rebel" Pulp and Paper Workers of Canada, a smaller union that has been accused of conducting raids itself on the bigger union's membership.

But leading union officials seemed doubtful, after the money-raising formula was defeated, that anything could now be done to salvage the union's planned membership raids on the pulp union.

VANCOUVER (CP)—An attempt to get a separate local set up for fallers so they could negotiate their own contracts with the forest companies was defeated Thursday at the annual western regional convention of the International Woodworkers of America.

Today's final session of the five-day convention was expected to make a decision on a second proposal to immediately turn over negotiations on standard scaling and pricing procedures to the union's top regional council, taking these talks out of the hands of the locals on the coast.

The debate on fallers' problems followed a Wednesday night negotiating session between officers of the Port Alberni local and MacMillan Bloedel, which broke down, the convention was told.

The unsuccessful case for the fallers having their own local was placed before the convention by Dave Burton of Port Alberni, head of the Fallers Society, which was set up two years ago as a splinter group objecting to lack of attention to fallers' problems by the top IWA leaders.

A majority of the delegates spoke in sympathy with the fallers, whose ranks on the coast have dwindled to fewer than 1,000 from more than 3,000 since the introduction of the smaller, lighter but more powerful power saws.

But they rejected the proposal that the fallers should strike out on their own.

Mr. Burton listed many grievances which he said did not fit into the master agreement covering all of the IWA's industrial workers in the mills and logging camps.

All Agree To Go To Work On Details Of The Tax Bill

OTTAWA (CP) — All parties in the Commons have agreed to go to work today on specific details of the government's voluminous tax bill after rambling through generalities for 17 debating days.

Deane Gundlock (PC—Lethbridge) agreed as general debate wound down Friday that opposition arguments had been repetitive.

But that must be forgiven, he added, because criticism has to be repeated in order to get it across to the government.

In theory, the Commons has been on specific, clause-by-clause study of the 707-page bill since Oct. 13, sitting as a committee.

Argument on general principles was supposed to have closed Oct. 12 when the big bill received second reading after 12 sitting days of general debate.

But in five days on the bill since the second-reading vote, the talk has ranged widely over economic principles.

AGREE ON PLAN After a series of meetings last week among House leaders of the parties, it was agreed to deal with specific features of the bill and stick to the topic.

First up today are sections dealing with proposed tax exemptions for individuals.

However, a government on ground rules is no guarantee of swift progress. The New Democrats have served notice of proposed amendments on the exemptions.

The government itself has put in 95 amendments to its own bill and has more than that to come.

The bill was introduced June 30 and still has to hurdle current committee examination, third reading in the Commons and debate by the Senate.

LANGLEY (CP)—A 22-year-old Surrey man underwent surgery Sunday night after he was shot in the side by a 12-gauge shotgun while grouse hunting with two companions about five miles from here. No names were released.

TEACH-INS URGED PRINCE GEORGE (CP)—Students opposed to the planned U.S. nuclear test in the Aleutians were urged Saturday by Dorothy Stowe of the Don't Make a Wave committee to organize teach-ins on possible effects of the blast. She spoke to about 400 persons at a rally organized by high school students.

HOUSE WRECKED VANCOUVER (CP)—A 40-year-old man was held Sunday under the Mental Health Act after he wrecked a rooming house. Owner Henry Ostrowski told police the man shattered windows and mirrors, smashed toilets and tore out sinks before he could be stopped. Damage was estimated at a minimum of $4,000.

SEARCH CONTINUES HAZELTON (CP)—A search for Virginia Sampare, 18, of the village of Kitsegeckla, missing for 12 days, was to continue today in dense bush around this northern British Columbia community. The girl was last seen on the highway near the village.

FORMER PRO DIES VANCOUVER (CP)—Former defenceman Les Vickery, who played with several teams in the Western Hockey League in the 1950s, died Sunday in hospital after a short illness. He was 54.

He saw action with WHL teams in Fresno, Calif., New Westminster and Vancouver.

PASS CLOSED PRINCE GEORGE (CP)—The Pine Pass section of the Hart Highway, which connects Prince George with the Peace River country, was closed for several hours Sunday night by RCMP after a 1½-inch snowfall made driving dangerous. A large semi-trailer truck overturned and several persons aboard a bus were injured when it had an accident.

INVITED TO STAMPEDE COLLINGWOOD, Ont. (CP)—The Collingwood collegiate institute marching band has been invited to participate in the 1972 Calgary Stampede. In the last four years the Collingwood band has performed at Expo 67 in Montreal, the HemisFair at San Antonio, Tex., Expo 70 at Osaka, Japan, and two Grey Cup parades.

The grievances include work probation periods, hours of work, call time, travel time and leave of absence.

Faller Cec Hamilton from Franklin River said "there is going to be a lot of trouble in the logging camps if we don't get fair decisions on these problems."

CAPSULE COMMENTS

By DYCK'S PHARMACISTS

Dr. John B. Macdonald, former president of UBC, and currently Executive Director of Council of Ontario Universities, was asked, four years ago, to head a commission to look into Pharmacy in Canada today. The result of the commission's work was the recent publication of a 500-page document entitled "The Pharmacy in a New Age".

The commission made many pertinent recommendations relative to the practice of Pharmacy. One I'd like to quote here is: "... It is recommended that keeping patient medication records be recognized as an integral part of prescription service to the public."

Kelowna pharmacists are proud of the fact that Kelowna has about 90% of their stores using some form of family records.

Dyck's is particularly proud since we have maintained our family records since 1962.

We feel it is an integral part of Pharmacy today. If your prescription isn't recorded in this way, you are not getting complete prescription service.

Family records provide a complete drug profile for each patient. They aid in preventing drug complications like duplication of medications when more than one doctor is involved.

They alert the pharmacist to signs of drug abuse, over-dosages and underdosages. They give the doctor a complete drug record on a patient on request. Records and the pharmacist in recording drug reactions and interactions and are also an aid to him and the patient when prescription numbers are lost. They also provide the basis for annual income tax receipts. Family records do all this and more.

Community Chest Is Still $13,000 Short Of Target

The Central Okanagan Community Chest and Red Cross United Appeal campaign has now reached $57,000, about $13,000 short of this year's $69,000 target.

The drive began Sept. 27 with an industrial, commercial and professional canvass, with the main residential blitz Oct. 4 and 5 with the assistance of 18 member agencies which directly benefit from the local campaign. Joint canvasses were conducted in Winfield, Okanagan Centre, Rutland, Ellison and Westbank.

Last week, campaign chairman John Dyck, expressed confidence response to the drive was going to be "excellent." He had, however, previously hoped the campaign would be completed by Oct. 9.

Still with faith undiminished, Mr. Dyck reminds those who have not yet contributed to the cause "if you don't do it, it won't get done," this year's campaign slogan.

SEEN and HEARD

Apparently modern young people are not too good on stilts. This was one of the events during an all night trek by Scouts and Guides in which there were poor results, said officials. Other events included building a rope bridge and climbing through tires suspended from trees.

A Kelowna resident recently learned personally of the evils of smoking when twice he put the wrong end of his cigarette in his mouth. In the first instance the cigarette was lit and he burned his lip. The second case was not so severe as he lit the one end of the butt and found that previously the other end of the plain tip had been lit. The result was a bad taste in his mouth and a very sore lip.

Milling crowds at the Orchard Park shopping centre took their tolls of tempers and patience Saturday. One overburdened mother, obviously in the last stages of annoyance, muttered in despair: "what you see when you don't have a gun."

The Kelowna Shrine Club will honor president, Norman Jackson, at the organization's president's ball and ladies night, Oct. 30 at the Elks Hall on Pandosy Street South.

Archbishop Installed

KAMLOOPS, B.C. (CP) — Archbishop Ralph Stanley Dean, 58, was installed as metropolitan of the ecclesiastical province of British Columbia and Archbishop of Cariboo here Wednesday night by the primate of the Anglican Church of Canada.

The installation at St. Paul's Cathedral, made him the youngest Anglican archbishop in Canada and the first Archbishop of Cariboo.

The Anglican primate, the Most Reverend E. W. Scott, installed Archbishop Dean, saying, "Ralph Stanley, through these promises you have committed yourself to God, to serve His church in the office of metropolitan of British Columbia."

Burning Permits Are Not Needed

Burning permits in the Kelowna Ranger district are no longer required with advent of closing of the fire season Oct. 22.

The season, which began May 1, terminated with a total of 47 fires, most of which were attributed to human causes. The number is almost half that of the 1970 season which reached 87 on Oct. 10.

MICE MENACE CROP TOOWOOMBA, Australia (Reuters) — Mice have eaten their way through more than $1 million worth of Queensland's 1971 wheat crop, the state's grain growers council reports.

CLEMENT AVENUE WAREHOUSE IS TOTAL LOSS AFTER FIRE

A one-storey wood frame warehouse belonging to Growers Supply Co. Ltd., was described as a "total loss" by manager Harry Barnett, following a fire early Saturday evening. About 35 firemen from the Kelowna Fire Department answered the general alarm around 8 p.m., and deputy chief Jack Roberts said today flames from the holocaust could be seen "from Richter Street and Bernard Avenue," adding there was no chance to save the building at 630 Clement Avenue.

No cause has been determined for the fire, although Mr. Barnett said he suspected "transients" who make a practice of sleeping under the warehouse loading platform, may be responsible for the fire. The building was unoccupied at the time and contained sulphur products, empty barrels and straw.

Firemen stayed at the site until 10:30 p.m. before the blaze was contained.

IN COURT TODAY

Judge R. J. S. Moir today suspended the passing of sentence on Ivan Groseclose of Kelowna until Jan. 30, 1973. Mr. Groseclose appeared in court today for sentencing following guilty pleas Sept. 14 on one charge of obtaining lodging fraudulently, theft under $50 and two counts of obtaining liquor by worthless cheques.

Garnet Dalton Paquin of RR 2, Kelowna, was fined $200 and suspended from driving for one month after he pleaded guilty to driving while having a blood-alcohol content exceeding .08 per cent.

Robert Copp of Kelowna was fined $200 and suspended from driving for one month after he pleaded guilty to driving while having a blood-alcohol content exceeding .08 per cent.

Carl Heinz Karabaz of Kelowna was remanded without plea to Tuesday on a charge of theft over $50.

Gary William August of Kelowna was fined $200 and suspended from driving for one month after he pleaded guilty to driving while having a blood-alcohol content exceeding .08 per cent.

Gilbert Allan Lawson of Kelowna was remanded to Nov. 5 for a pre-sentence report after he pleaded guilty to breaking and entering and theft.

TV Explosion Believed Cause Of House Fire

An explosion in a television set is believed to have caused a fire Sunday afternoon which gutted part of the inside of a home on Angus Drive in Westbank.

The house is owned by Byron Truswell, who lives there with his two children, Byron, five, and Hallie, eight, and a housekeeper, Mrs. Ruth Witt.

Mr. Truswell and a friend had taken the children to a Kelowna theatre and returned to find the house in flames. Westbank firemen sent two trucks and were on the job about two hours. They had to return later because furniture outside was burning.

The fire did not get into the bedroom area of the two-storey house. Mr. Truswell and the children are staying with relatives on Truswell Road. The house is fully insured.

Blood Clinic Opens Tuesday

Residents have a date Tuesday with the local branch of the Canadian Red Cross, which is conducting its annual fall blood donor campaign to collect 1,350 pints of the precious fluid.

Clinic times are from 1 to 4 p.m., and 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at the Anglican Parish Hall.

As in the past, baby sitting and free transportation will be provided during clinic hours, and businesses and service clubs will have another chance to compete for the Olga Horn trophy and the Kelowna and District Jaycee shield for most percentage of donors.

"Your donation may save a life," reminds donor chairman, Mrs. Richard Stirling.

... Cloudy

Cloudy periods and the possibility of more showers are expected Tuesday in the Kelowna area. Temperatures are expected to remain about the same.

High and low in the city Sunday were 52 and 41 with .1 inch of precipitation. High and low at the airport were 53 and 39 with .12 inch of rain. The expected high Tuesday is 50 degrees, preceded by an overnight low of 30 degrees.

The official opening will be followed by a public tour of the building plus a showing of the National Film Board's latest films.

Education Talks Here On Nov. 23

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Commission on the Public's Role in Education, a project of the B.C. Parent-Teacher Federation, opens a series of hearings throughout the province next month.

The hearing will begin Nov. 15 in Dawson Creek.

Chief Commissioner is Mrs. Catherine Schorn, president of the Federation.

Purpose of the commission is to produce guidelines for a new form of citizen involvement in the schools.

Kelowna Could Host Event For Interior Next Year

The first annual Scout-Guide All Night Trek for this district was so successful participation may be invited from all parts of the Interior next year.

The trek kept 130 Scouts and Guides busy in the area of Black Knight Mountain near Rutland Saturday night and Sunday morning. In groups of four, they walked 12 miles, doing tests at various stations.

Drew Craig, assistant district commissioner for Scouts, said the idea was part of a plan to help get outdoor life back into the Scout movement. When the Guides were asked to help serve refreshments, some of them volunteered to go along on the trek.

It was the first trek in Canada for both groups.

H. M. Macintosh, Scout public relations officer, said that, when members of the interior region council learned about it, they asked to be able to participate. This had to be refused, but it was suggested they be invited next year. This region covers from Osoyoos to Cache Creek and Revelstoke.

Scouts and Guides attended from Westbank to Rutland, and there was also one Guide company from Winfield.

The first group left at 7 p.m. Saturday, and the last group returned at 7:15 a.m. Sunday. From Pyman Road near Highway 33, they walked to the lookout tower, past the ski bowl to MacKenzie Road, then back to Highway 33 and the starting point. There were no dropouts and no casualties.

Tests included building an 80-foot rope bridge, walking on snowshoes over inner tubes, going through tires hanging on trees, walking on stilts, first aid, compass knowledge, knots, throwing safety lines, identifying plants and sounds, and climbing a nine-foot barrier. No exceptions were made for the girls.

Points were given on deportment, strength, skills and endurance. Following the Scout motto, "Be Prepared," marchers carried warm clothes, food and other needs. There were two refreshment breaks and one for supper at midnight.

Frozen Puddles Added Spice

Ice on puddles added spice for the participants, aged 11-14. All received crests.

Each group looked after its own breakfast Sunday morning, ranging from porridge to bacon and eggs. Scout troops left members behind to guard fires during the night. The Guides lit their fires when they returned.

The sun broke over the horizon during a service led by Rev. Paul Robinson of St. Michael and All Angels' Anglican Church. Dan Proulx, assistant to Mr. Craig, who suggested the trek following a similar one in Sudbury, led Scouts in re-affirming their promise.

Mrs. R. C. Conner led the Guide re-affirmation.

Prizes were presented by Mr. Craig and Harold Hornback, official registrar. First was a group from 7th Kelowna Scouts, Randy Craig, Brad Milnes, Mark William and Rod Martins. Second went to Glenmore troop, Anthony Reihlinger.

Chief starter was Thon as Milnes.

Members of the OCB radio club had mobile radio-equipped vehicles around the course. Leo Meyers of Rutland acted as liaison between the trek and the "outside" via telephone. The St. John Ambulance vehicle was manned by Michael Durban. RCMP officers visited the area during the night.

About 100 adults were involved in the event.

Still No Official Opening For SPCA Animal Shelter

The new animal shelter on Barnaby Road being built by the local branch of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, is still without an official opening date.

The two-storey, concrete block structure, now with an estimated cost of $25,000, is also awaiting installation of power and a heating plant.

Local SPCA branch president, Miss Joan Hamblin, said today stucco work on the structure is scheduled to be finished some time this week, with some finishing still to be done. The building has been designed to provide facilities for 14 dogs and cats, office and examination rooms and a two bedroom suite for an animal inspector.

Since construction began a year ago, the local branch has been conducting a $10,000 fund-raising drive, and was forced to borrow a similar amount from the parent organization at Vancouver.

Contributions to the fund are "slowly coming in," says Joan Hamblin, who is still looking for a rich benefactor to help the cause.

Winter Still Undecided

A former city council member challenged to seek office again said this morning he is still undecided.

Following defeat of the Orchard Park boundary extension question by city ratepayers last week, Mayor Hilbert Roth challenged E. R. Winter, leader of opposition to the move, to run in the December elections. Both were aldermen in 1968-69.

"I haven't decided yet," said Mr. Winter. "I'll let you know when I do."

Canadian Dollar Value In Decline

TORONTO (CP) — The value of the Canadian dollar dropped back to 99.84 cents U.S. at the open of domestic currency markets Monday after closing Friday at 99.97 cents U.S.

The decline was attributed to the reduction in the central bank interest rate—the rate the Bank of Canada charges for loans to chartered banks. The bank reduced the rate Friday to 4½ per cent from 5½.

Lower interest rates in Canada make this country a less attractive place to deposit foreign currencies.

Currency traders said there was little activity on Canadian markets because the United States currency markets were closed for the Veterans' Day holiday.

HOUSING UNITS — OTTAWA (CP) — The approval of $650,000 in loans for the construction of 48 housing units in Brocklehurst, Lambly and Vernon, B.C., was announced Friday by Central Mortgage and Housing Corp.

NEW BAILEY — LONDON (CP) — Due to a shortage of male ushers for the law courts, the United States has been appointed at the Old Bailey: Helen Foulser, 63, and Frances Robinson, 46. They are both former Holloway prison of-ficials.

SCOUTS REWARDED AT END OF TREK

This was the scene on Sunday morning as Scouts and Guides received crests and prizes following the first annual All Night Trek around Black Knight Mountain near Rutland. They had to do various tests during the 12-mile hike. Hopes were expressed groups from other parts of the Interior could be invited next year. Participants had to be responsible for Sunday morning breakfasts. A Scouts Own service concluded the event. Tests included building an 80-foot long bridge of ropes. The course took about 12 hours.

Diabetic Week To Honor Discovery Of Insulin

This year marks the 50th anniversary of the discovery of insulin by the Canadian medical team of Dr. Frederick Banting and Charles Best. Since 1921, it is estimated that 25 million lives have been saved in all parts of the world by their discovery.

To commemorate the breakthrough in the control of diabetes, and to renew public interest in the research still to be done in learning why people get diabetes and how it may be cured, the Canadian Diabetic Association has declared Oct. 25-31 as "Diabetic Week".

Mrs. W. J. Rumpel, president of the Kelowna branch, says about three per cent of Kelowna and district residents may be suffering from diabetes. Many of them may not know it.

It has been estimated that one person in 50 has the disease but Kelowna and district, with its high percentage of elderly people, could have more sufferers.

Mrs. Rumpel also adds that diabetes is prevalent in people more than 40 years old. Only about 10 per cent of diabetics have not reached their 20th birthday.

The local branch hopes that when the addition to the hospital is ready a day care centre for diabetics will be established. It would provide room for therapy classes.

A camp for diabetic children in the area is held every summer at the Jewish camp in Oyama.

Spearhead of the lay-medical organization is its president, Harold H. Alexander, Toronto business executive, whose aggressive and enthusiastic approach to the work of the CDA has resulted in greatly increased membership and a wider public understanding and appreciation of the need for its perpetuation.

It has become traditional for the busy businessman to be entrusted with additional responsibilities as on insurance that the work will be done.

"Insulin is a discovery that can hardly be computed," he says. "While it is not a cure, it is a proven and valuable support that enables a diabetic to lead a normal life."

Alexander points out that there are an estimated 200,000 known diabetics in Canada, and probably as many more whose condition has not yet been detected. There was an urgency in learning more that would lead to a cure for diabetes because, he states, one in 50 Canadians are or will be diabetic, and every two hours, one more person in Canada becomes diabetic.

The local branch along with the national organization remind diabetics to carry identification in the form of metal bracelets on their wrists or cards in wallets or purses.

CANADA'S STORY

Canadians Won Medal Of Heroism

By BOB BOWMAN

Do you remember "The Charge of the Light Brigade," the non-typical Tennyson poem that used to be in all the school readers?

"Half a league, half a league, Half a league onward,
All in the valley of Death Rode the six hundred."

Probably many of you will be able to finish the poem, by heart.

Strangely, Canadian textbooks never mentioned that Lieutenant Alexander Dunn of Toronto won the Victoria Cross in that desperate charge in which most of the men were killed at Balaclava on October 25, 1854. He was serving with the British army and was the first Canadian to win the highest military award in the British Commonwealth.

Dunn returned to Canada and helped to found the Royal Canadian Regiment, which he later commanded. Unfortunately, he was killed in a hunting accident in Abyssinia in 1888.

There is also a story behind the second Canadian to win the Victoria Cross. He was William Hall, son of a former Nova Scotia slave who had escaped to Nova Scotia. William was brought up at Avonport, but joined the Royal Navy. He was serving in H.M.S. Shannon during the Indian mutiny and volunteered to be a member of a shore party during the siege of Lucknow.

The men of the Shannon dragged a gun into a position from which they could fire at the wall of the city. They were exposed to enemy guns and all of them were killed except Hall, who managed to keep firing. One of his shots breached the wall and the British troops were able to get through and save the garrison. Hall was awarded the Victoria Cross for his bravery and became the first Canadian sailor, and the first Negro to win the honor.

So the first two Canadian V.C.'s were won in historic actions: the charge of the Light Brigade and the relief of Lucknow.

OTHER EVENTS ON OCT. 25:

1768—Port la Joie, founded by French, became Charlotte-town.

1798—St. Croix River became southern boundary between New Brunswick and Maine.

1913—CPR began Saint John-Digby ferry service; Calgary Stock Exchange opened.

1920—Plebscites in Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, and Nova Scotia strongly supported prohibition.

1958—Ottawa was damaged by gas explosion.

1962—Bedford Institute of Oceanography was opened at Halifax.

Forbidden Island In Atlantic Doesn't Want Anybody To Visit

PLUM ISLAND, N.Y. (AP) — This is a forbidden island, jutting into the Atlantic. It is separated from the mainland by the riled, rippling waters of Plum Gut, a channel so narrow that when wind and tide argue it can swamp a sizable sailboat.

On the island's shore, signs warn against all trespassers. Twenty-four hours a day guards patrol the lonely beaches.

But this week for the first time in 15 years, the gates to Plum Island opened briefly to let the world see the potential havoc inside.

For this island in Long Island Sound is the site of a U.S. department of agriculture laboratory for infectious animal diseases, some so virulent that if they should jump the mile-wide water gap they could devastate U.S. livestock.

The precautions that are routine speak for the pestilence Plum Island harbors.

Scientists arriving on the island must shed their own clothing and don special laboratory wear. The same went for the handful of reporters who toured the laboratory Thursday.

Each time a man leaves the laboratory for another he must shower with germicidal soap, scrub his fingernails with a brush and be rinsed down with high pressure sprays. Then he dons fresh clothing again. All personal items such as rings and watches must be left behind at the gate. Notebooks are sterilized in a hot box before they can be taken to the mainland.

TAKE MANY SHOWERS
Most scientists working in the laboratory take two or three showers a day. The record, held by one moving from lab to lab, was 18 in a single day.

Each laboratory is so equipped that when a door opens all air travels from the outside in. All air exiting from the laboratories must pass through filters fine enough to trap bacteria. Waste water is run into holding tanks to be sterilized.

Behind the red-painted doors are cattle, swine and sheep deliberately infected with bacteria and viruses that plague so many countries in the world—foot and mouth disease, Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis and African swine fever, to mention only a few.

The aim on Plum Island is better means of diagnosis, and hopefully effective vaccines. State and federal officials are trained here in techniques of disease control and detection.

All who visit the island do so under more and more proscriptions. They must stay away from all animal repositories such as farms and zoos for at least seven days after leaving the island. For those who work with the diseased animals and live on the mainland it means constant quarantine from such places.

SPECIAL DELIVERY
RUSHLEY, England (CP) — Maybe the best way to send a card through the mail in Britain is to leave off the name and address. Evelyn Fitch received such a card at her home in Bedfordshire last night. After her daughter, now 250 miles away, had mailed it. Even the post office is mystified. A spokesman said when the news was out.

BIBLE BRIEF
"But this I say, He which soweth sparingly shall reap also sparingly; and he which soweth bountifully shall reap also bountifully." 2 Corinthians 9:6.

Life is a matter of sowing and reaping. "Whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap." God forgives us for the evil that we have sown and give us grace and wisdom to sow the seed that produces love and peace to all men everywhere.

Davis A Man To Watch After Ontario Victory

TORONTO (CP) — William Greville Davis, riding the crest of his first election victory as premier of Ontario, has made himself a man to be watched.

Not only did the boish, sandy-haired premier buck a trend set by the defeat of six other provincial governments at the polls in the past two years—he increased his Ontario legislature majority.

This newly-acquired political clout is bringing Mr. Davis mention as a possible key figure on the federal scene of the Progressive Conservative party.

Four years ago Robert Stanfield defeated former Manitoba premier Duff Roblin to become P.C. national leader. Mr. Davis, then Ontario's education minister, had toyed briefly with the idea of chasing the job himself although he has shown no recent indication of such ambitions.

He wound up in hospital for treatment of a back ailment and had to drop out in the early stages of the PC leadership campaign. A statement issued by Mr. Davis's office a month before the 1967 national convention said: "He can think of the national leadership in five, 10 or 15 years."

If Mr. Stanfield were to step down, one other federal leadership prospect in the Conservative stable is Premier Peter Lougheed, who put an end to 36 years of Social Credit government in Alberta in a general election last Aug. 31.

The two Tory premiers have much in common: both are lawyers. Mr. Lougheed is only a few months older than the Ontario PC leader and the both have engaging personalities that make them attractive leadership candidates.

REPUTATION EARNED
Mr. Lougheed has understandably earned the reputation of a giant-killer. A couple of years ago, few Albertans would have bet a nickel on his chances of knocking off Social Credit.

Mr. Davis has Ontario, with 4.4 million voters and dozens of federal ridings.

If he still has federal aspirations, there is one factor Mr. Davis will have to consider carefully—the singular lack of success Ontario premiers have had in national politics. None of Mr. Davis's 17 predecessors has become prime minister of Canada.

The last Tory premier to try was George Drew, who won federal after five years in the provincial office, a few months after losing his own seat in the 1948 provincial election that saw the rest of his government returned with a majority.

But Mr. Drew couldn't crack Louis St. Laurent's Liberals in two federal elections and retired from politics. Mr. Davis's immediate predecessors, John Roberts and Leslie Frost, both steered clear of the federal scene.

Mr. Davis was born into a true-blue Tory family in Brampton, Ont., northwest of Toronto, July 30, 1929. He has never left the little town, which has served as a home and base for his political career.

At the age of 16 he cut his political teeth, serving as a delegate to a national party convention, and four years later he was elected president of the Peel North riding association.

After obtaining his law degree Mr. Davis joined his father's law firm, but his stay was short. He sought and won the Conservative nomination in Peel, and was swept into office in the 1959 election. He has held the riding since.

In 1961 Mr. Davis became a vice-chairman of Ontario Hydro and a year later took over the province's super-sensitive education portfolio.

In a whirlwind of legislative activity between his succession as premier March 1 and the election call six months later, Mr. Davis initiated or rammed through more than 150 items of individual legislation.

He gave 18-year-olds the right to vote, eased drinking laws, put new curbs on pollution, introduced a form of no-fault car insurance, limited foreign investment in new brokerage houses and took the unprecedented step of suing a chemical company for $25 million for polluting the St. Clair River water system.

The new premier also torpedoed Toronto's controversial Spadina Expressway and rejected Roman Catholic demands for extending aid to the separate secondary school system.

Mr. Davis has been married twice. His first wife, Helen McPhee of Windsor, died in 1962 after an operation and he was left with four children. A year later Mr. Davis married Kathleen Mackay of Chicago and they have had one child.

Federal Tory Party Enthusiastic Following Victory In Ontario

OTTAWA (CP) — How provincial elections affect federal parties—if at all—has rarely been clear. But there is no hiding the federal Conservative enthusiasm over the overwhelming victory of Premier William Davis in Ontario.

It came on the heels of a public-opinion poll which indicated the biggest jump in Conservative popularity since 1969, and just before the Nov. 8 Assiniboia byelection which the party desperately wants to win.

"The Liberal government is in trouble all over Canada... except possibly in Quebec," said Conservative Leader Robert Stanfield, as he watched the Tory triumph sweep through Ontario.

A Prairie Conservative, not noted as a Stanfield fan, was offering bets that his leader would be the next prime minister of Canada.

The party enthusiasm was everywhere. When Mr. Stanfield rose in the Commons Friday to ask a question, he was treated to the type of party applause that's usually reserved for great personal triumphs.

But the Ontario Conservative victory was too much for Mr. Stanfield's usual silence. He poured drinks in his office before toasting the "tremendous victory."

What pleases Conservative strategists more than the psychological effects of a provincial victory is the party machinery that develops with it. After impressive victories in both Ontario and Alberta, the federal party is counting heavily on these organizations for the next general election.

"But the most important aspect," says a Conservative worker, "is the effect on party morale."

KEEP THEM COMING
"A victory such as the one in Ontario will fire up party enthusiasm across Canada for months. If we could just space them every few months."

Meanwhile, and as usual, the parties associated with the losing causes publicly point to the available bright spots.

David Lewis, leader of the federal New Democratic Party, said that although the provincial party, headed by son Stephen, dropped several seats, he was encouraged by the inroads the party made in rural areas of the province.

Defence Minister Donald S. Macdonald, who represents Toronto Rosedale for the Liberals, said Ontario voters leaned toward the Conservatives because they saw this as the best method of keeping out the NDP. In these circumstances, he said, "The Liberals did fairly well."

GOOD FOR SOIL
"Use of digested sewage sludge as a soil conditioner has been successfully proven in practice. Piping in of the sludge also is new."

In the field of solid waste, a concept has been worked out using slurry pipelines to move household garbage and more. Additional development is required on how to separate the material both before insertion in the pipeline and before deposit on land.

"It is desirable, for instance, to separate the paper that is amenable to recycling ahead of the pipeline for de-inking and reuse."

In addition, it might be desirable to recycle certain items such as steel and aluminum cans.

One of the major tasks is educating the public about the beneficial aspects of utilizing wastes.

USEFUL FOR PULP MILLS
Mr. Wasp said slurry pipelines could be applied also in the forest industry for carrying wood chips from the forest to pulp mills, and the suggestion only needs some forward thinking by a forest products company to become a reality.

"You need a large volume to make a pipeline feasible. We think 1,000 tons a day is minimum."

"We don't see the forest companies using slurry pipelines until they start thinking about systems approaches," he said. "Now, you have people who resist change; they stick to the tried-and-true methods."

In Mr. Wasp's plan, mobile choppers would be taken into the woods and the chips would be fed into the pipeline for the mill. Water from the line would be used in the mill.

Such a system would help reduce water pollution, provide a more direct route to the mill than by road or river, give greater flexibility in mill location and be cheaper at high elevations than conventional methods of transporting chips.

NEWSPAPERS 'Make Impact'
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — North American newspapers have more impact now than ever before because "they are sensitive to what people are talking and thinking about," the president of The Associated Press Managing Editors Association said today.

"I think we are editing closer to their lives than we ever have before and that our newspapers are more vital and vigorous because of it," Don Carter of the Miami, Fla., Telegraph and News told the opening of the APME's 36th annual meeting.

Slurry Style Garbage

VANCOUVER (CP) — Slurry pipelines have been touted highly of late for carrying coal, but garbage?

That's right, garbage, from the city out to the suburbs for recycling.

E. J. Wasp, manager of slurry systems for the San Francisco-based engineering firm of Bechtel Inc., says such lines which carry solids suspended in water could help solve the "perplexing problems" of urban waste disposal.

In Vancouver recently for a seminar on the pumping of liquids and solids, he said transportation of waste products to less-populated areas is attractive "economically and environmentally."

For example, the nutrients in digested sewage sludge which are causing extreme pollution in bodies of water such as Lake Erie in the U.S., can be beneficial to marginal lands in the strip mine areas.

LETTER TO EDITOR
ON KOSYGIN'S VISIT

Sir: "People of North America do not know what it means to be a Christian," so says Rev. Richard Wurmbrand of Romania, general director of the Jesus to the Communist World Movement. These words were spoken by the Rev. Wurmbrand in Kelowna, Sept. 1971.

Rev. Wurmbrand, a Lutheran, spent 15 years in prison, 14 under Communists, the last under the Nazis. The Communists used terrible methods of torture. They used to burn us with hot irons, and put us in cells with 40 or 50 people, where there was so much noise we could not sleep.

"Everyone has a breaking point. I have seen people deny Christ because of torture. I have seen Communist guards turn Christian and join us in prison. Russia leads with a million such prisoners. Christians are not so lucky in Red China; they have their heads chopped off."

Has Communist Kosygin come to a Christian Canada or has he come to an atheistic Canada? Do our petty personal problems cause us to forget the sufferings of those in Communist countries? Is Kosygin going to prove the Communist theme, "Religion is the opiate of the people?"

Talks heard Canada, our troubles increase with our apathy. I'm disgusted with the hypocrisy in high places, spineless politicians and cynical attitudes of patriotism.

"O Canada" Do we stand on guard for them? Will Kosygin's Canadian economic encounter become the Communist's political power persuader?

Yours truly,
VIOLET R. SHARP

Expanding Human Life

Recent research into the aging process indicates that it soon may be possible to stretch the human life span by as much as 25 years. According to Professor Bernard Strehler of the University of Southern California, one of the world's foremost authorities on the subject, "if results obtained on experimental animals also apply to humans, the extension of the average person's life by an additional 15 to 25 years is well within reach."

Scientists have discovered that exposure to excessive amounts of radiation speeds aging. But they also have found that this process can be slowed in rats by administering certain chemicals. "Studies indicate," writes Dr. Strehler, "that a striking increase in longevity of the laboratory rat is produced by adding to its diet anti-oxidants, notably BHT (a food preservative)." Some of the mice that have received such treatment have lived 40 per cent longer than those not given the chemicals.

Longevity also might be increased by readjusting body temperatures. Scientists have noted with interest that the life span of some species of fish can be extended by moving them from warm water to cold. This suggests that humans too might be able to slow down aging by reducing their body temperatures. Before long, Dr. Strehler predicts, drugs will be available that will "reset the thermostat of the body several degrees lower."

The most appealing aspect of this research is the prospect of extra years being added to the middle part of life when a person is most productive and still in good health. "By controlling human deterioration," observes Dr. Alexander Comfort of the University of London, "we hope soon to be able to delay significantly the loss of vigor that leads to physical and mental decline."

10,000 Medals Awarded

The file is almost complete on the presentation of Centennial '71 pioneer and centenarian awards.

Some 10,000 pioneers, now living in British Columbia, have been honored to date for their contribution to the growth and development of the province, through the presentation of special Centennial '71 pioneer medallions with some awards still to be made. In addition, 60 centenarians have been presented with individually engraved awards.

Registration for the mammoth campaign of recognition closed Nov. 19, 1970. Since the start of Centennial '71 year of celebrations, local committees have organized teas, picnics, dinners, and receptions, at which the medallions were presented.

The registration and presentation of the awards have been handled by local Centennial committees, with the British Columbia Centennial '71 Committee providing the medallions and awards.

To be eligible for a pioneer award, a person had to be resident of Canada prior to January, 1897. A centenarian must already be, or have reached his hundredth birthday before the end of the year. In both cases, awards have been restricted to residents of British Columbia. Close to 3,000 of those honored are native sons and daughters, a fact recognized by the addition of a dogwood clasp to the ribbon of the award.

MUSICALLY SPEAKING
Secretary Bird
Has Some Traps

By ETHEL STEELE

My time table, this year, restricts some of my daytime writing time and since a column allows some sins in regards to deadlines there will be a few lags in coverage except in those cases where, traditionally, always have I written my coverage at night immediately after a performance.

Therefore, my apologies to Vernon Little Theatre. VLT opened its current season last Tuesday night with William Douglas Home's The Secretary Bird. Home, an English dramatist, usually writes his comedies with political overtones.

The Secretary Bird is a social comedy with satiric overtones on today's marital customs and the classic cuckold. Its theme is that of a wandering wife with ideas of divorce being won back by the clever manipulations of the cuckolded husband. Some of the lines are brilliantly clever and frightfully funny. The over all action is somewhat static, therefore difficult to project.

There are traps in this play and inadvertently the Vernon cast fell into them due, mainly, to the portrayal of the wife by Lorraine Allum. Her characterization bordered on the negative and her timing slowed the pace. Her voice production lacked volume and dynamic variation. She did look well except for the wig.

David Jones as the husband is a fine addition to Valley Theatre. He is a good actor and in this case kept the comedy going with the satire beautifully underlined. His timing was second. I look forward to seeing him again.

Nancy Silver as Mrs. Gay deserves much credit for her accent and her wonderful makeup as the housekeeper. This was fine character acting.

Pamela Harford, The Secretary Bird was a good foil. And David Abbott having stepped in at the last moment, was a remarkable John Brown considering the fact he had fallen off a roof the day before opening and was unable to move one arm.

I enjoyed the evening except for the frustration of a poorly balanced cast. There were many laughs. There should have been more. I realize Vernon is to be congratulated on procuring such a new play. But again, I am greatly tired of comedies, comedies. There is more to theatre than merely poking fun at life. There is life itself to be resolved and there are many fine plays to do it with. Congratulations Dennis Learey for a fine directing job under difficult conditions.

Friday was Kelowna Junesses Musicales' day. The first concert, of a series of four in the current season. Featured was the Paul Kuentz Chamber Orchestra from Paris, France. This is a fine well disciplined group of 13 musicians. Traditionally all strings except for the two timpani and the small high B flat trumpet called the Bach trumpet. For music students, particularly, these French strings brought a style and sound they would otherwise never hear except perhaps on records which last is never quite the same as the live sound.

The Paul Kuentz strings are more brilliant than our own North American sound with the exception of the New York Philharmonic under Leonard Bernstein. The Kuentz concert pitch is 42 instead of 440 which gives a more satiny and silky tone. Concert pitch is really a matter of taste and even though there is a set international pitch it is never adhered to absolutely.

All that aside, even though I found the tone had at times a definite edge the day was one of many splendours. In the morning some 1700 elementary school children attended two one-hour concerts thanks to the co-operation of School District 23. The children were exceptionally well behaved, due, no doubt in part to the concise and well projected English commentary by a member of the ensemble.

The program presented in the form of a travelogue through early 18th century France, Italy, Austria up to modern France as represented by the music of Mouret, Vivaldi, Mozart and Roussel. The evening audience were given the added treat of the Telemann D major Trumpet Concerto.

The early music fared well with this group although there were times when the playing tended to be slick. Perhaps it sounded thus to my ear because of the slender texture of sound. I personally like a little larger chamber sound in this music. There were barely enough strings to achieve balance in the Mouret Suite et Fanfare for trumpet, timpani and strings. The Telemann fared better although here too I found the pitch a bit piercing for my ears. The Mozart Eine Kleine Nachtmusik had warmth as well as the necessary elegance and style. The more modern Roussel came alive with a startling revelation. Perhaps the moderns are more suited to the players' forthright tonal style.

A word of thanks is due Hal Odium and Harold Taylor for their bus schedule. Also to Tom Capozzi for the provision of refreshments to the artists' after performance supper as provided by Kelowna Secondary School cafeteria. The evening audience was small but most enthusiastic and very appreciative. Thank you JMC for the unusual musical experience.

Hospital Delay
Blamed On Head

CLEARWATER, B.C. (CP) — Rehabilitation Minister Phil Gaglardi Saturday night blamed Clearwater Hospital Board chairman John Harwood for the long delay in construction of a hospital in this community north of Kamloops.

Mr. Gaglardi made a surprise appearance at a public meeting called by the board and said:

"John Harwood is the person to blame in the fact we're not getting anywhere with the hospital."

Health minister Ralph Loffmark said last week the government would proceed with construction of a small hospital here, but may abolish the hospital board, which Mr. Loffmark says he had lost confidence in.

The board has been fighting with the government over the hospital issue from more than a year.

The town's only doctor, Dr. Rudy Regehr, left Clearwater for Alberta last winter because the government had failed to fulfil its promise to build a hospital.

LOFFMARK ATTACKED

During the provincial legislature session, opposition MLAs demanded Mr. Loffmark's resignation, claiming he had lied to the house when he denied threatening to investigate Dr. Regehr's medical competence.

In March, Alan Forsyth, a government appointee to the hospital board, resigned in protest and Mr. Harwood renounced his Social Credit party membership early this month.

In his announcement last week, Mr. Loffmark said the government will soon call tenders for clearing and foundation work on a basic treatment facility, and architects will work on proposals for adding beds.

Mr. Gaglardi told Saturday's meeting that instead of "trying to pull the health minister apart, the board should write him a letter saying how much they appreciate the new deal of a hospital instead of just a clinic."

"It's easy to see why the health minister has no confidence in Harwood or the board," he said after the meeting.

"MISREPRESENTED" FACTS

"Harwood on a number of occasions deliberately misrepresented what he had been told by the government when informing the board and the people."

Mr. Gaglardi, booed several times during the meeting, charged that the board had tried to keep the meeting secret.

Although the meeting gave a unanimous vote of confidence to the hospital board, Mr. Harwood said Sunday he is disgusted with the way Clearwater is being used as a "political pawn."

"I'm ready to get out once the hospital is established, but I might go sooner," he said.

"I told Gaglardi I will resign if Loffmark puts the hospital promise in writing. I'm sick of the way the government is pushing us around."

Help For Growers
On U.S. Charge
Urged By Rotary

VERNON — The Rotary Club has asked Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau to compensate Canadian apple growers for the recently-imposed United States surcharge.

A telegram was sent to the prime minister, with copies to government officials, MLAs and other Rotary Clubs. It followed a speech to the last club meeting by Allan Claridge of Oyama, president of the B.C. Fruit Growers' Association.

Mr. Claridge said the surcharge represents 21 cents a box. He said the crop this year will be about two million boxes below average, due to weather conditions.

Club members felt the situation threatened the economy of the entire Okanagan.

Service Is Held
For R. K. Town

WINFIELD — A memorial service was held today in St. Margaret's Anglican Church here for Reginald Kimberley Town, 64, retired newspaperman, who died Friday after a short illness.

In 1922 Mr. Town worked for the Vancouver World, now out of business. After the Second World War he worked for the Vancouver Sun, retiring to Winfield in 1962.

Mr. Town was a member of the Royal Canadian Legion. He was an amateur radio operator, known all over the world by his call letters VETAC (Able Charlie).

Surviving are his wife; one son, Hugh; two daughters, Mrs. D. Willey of South Burnaby, and Mrs. W. Jack of North Burnaby; 12 grandchildren; one brother, Victor J., of Ohio; and two sisters, Mrs. E. Sleeth of Kamloops and Mrs. P. Kelsberg of North Surrey.

Arrangements were by the Memorial Society of B.C. and First Memorial Services Ltd.

School Crowded,
Parents Learn

RUTLAND — Open house was held at Quigley Elementary School. Parents gathered in the activity room where they were welcomed by Harvey Macmillan, principal. He introduced the teaching staff and additional support personnel of the school.

The growth of the school was discussed along with the increasing student population. There were 317 pupils last June. This has increased to 563 to date.

Concern over large pupil numbers in the intermediate grades was expressed by Mr. Macmillan. He suggested parents express their concern to their local school board representative, C. Buckland.

As the Hollywood Road continues to be congested, parents were urged to share the responsibility with their children's teachers in instructing them in proper road safety.

Two selections by the 1970-71 primary choir recorded for the Youth '71 Album were played. The children, under the direction of Jean Harrod, music specialist of the school, placed first in their class at the Valley Music Festival in Vernon last April.

Mr. Macmillan encouraged all present to wander through the school, view their children's work and talk with the teachers.

Mining Industry Plays
Important Role Here

The mining industry continues to play an important role in the economy of the Okanagan-Similkameen-Boundary region of British Columbia, says a report.

Sales revenue from mining products in the region totalled $37,736,000 in 1970, compared with $9,160,000 in 1969.

Major spending on plant, machinery, equipment and other capital expenditures and on exploration and development continued at a good pace and wages and salary paid out climbed to a record $5.7 million in 1970.

These figures are included in a study which reflects the mining industry's major role in B.C.'s economic growth. The study, made independently by Price Waterhouse and Co., deals with the operations of 58 companies, members of the Mining Association of British Columbia, in the metal, asbestos and coal mining industries.

PROVINCIAL

On a province-wide scale, the industry during 1970 generated a record $550 million in annual income. The industry also established new records for capital expenditures, sales revenues, exploration and development expenditures and in providing employment.

The report said that the dynamic growth of the industry in the years 1967-70 has exceeded expectations and that the prospects for growth over the short term are bright.

Figures relating to the Okanagan-Similkameen-Boundary region showed:

The industry directly employed 655 persons compared with 609 in 1969 and wages and salaries paid were $5,712,000, an increase from $4,344,000.

Exploration and development expenditures for 1970 were $4,897,000 compared with $8,473,000 for 1969. The 10-year figures 1961-70 show total expenditures of $28,430,000.

Capital expenditures in 1970 totalled $17,357,000, down slightly from the $23,328,000 the previous year. The 10-year total for the region shows a total of $87,843,000 for capital expenditures.

FUTURE

On future prospects, the study said, "While the present momentum of the industry could be seriously affected by such factors as a continuing decline in metal prices, or changes in taxation and legislative climate, the total income generated in B.C. by the industry could reach $750 million by 1975 and $1 billion by the end of the decade."

Optimistic about the short-term prospects for mining, the study points out that proposals contained in the federal budget and proposed tax reform measures could have a serious effect on future operations.

"After a transitional period, these provisions will almost certainly result in a sharp increase in the tax burden of the mining industry," the report said. "As a result mining companies in British Columbia will pay higher effective mining and income taxes than those in the U.S. and Australia, the two principal competitors for mining capital."

"The prospect of a substantial reduction in after-tax returns could result in less venture capital being attracted to the industry in B.C. and this could have serious deterrent effects upon mining exploration, development and production in the province in the longer term."

"Further, mining prospects which at present would only be marginally profitable may not be carried to completion at the higher levels of taxation and the capital necessary to the development and expansion of the industry could be diverted elsewhere."

"In the longer term this well could result in a diminution of tax revenues," it said.

Mrs. D. Parkes
Gets WI Spoon

WESTBANK (Special) — The Westbank Women's Institute has resumed meetings after the summer holiday. The first was at the home of Mrs. Derek Parkes on Pritchard Drive, Westbank. In the absence of president Mrs. I. Gaskell, Mrs. Parkes presided.

Minutes of the June meeting were read by the secretary Mrs. J. Fry. Discussions on winter projects took place and correspondence was read.

Mrs. Parkes was presented with an institute spoon in appreciation of her services to the Centennial Committee.

At the Pacific National Exhibition in Vancouver, a layette made by the institute won a prize.

Guest speaker was Mrs. Phyllis Trenwith, of Kelowna. She is the provincial government agent for the senior citizens. Her pet project is crippled children. She spoke on housing for senior citizens, rentals, protective services, drop-in centres, camping facilities and needs in general.

She felt many elderly people should be given the chance to use their skills for helping others, and she said they had vast stores of knowledge and experience which is just being wasted. The hostesses served refreshments.

DIAMOND ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Dowle of 809 Wilson Ave., were at home to friends and relatives on Oct. 20 to celebrate their diamond wedding anniversary. Acting as hostesses for Mrs. Dowle were her friends, Mrs. Odessa McClelland, Mrs. Muriel Beale and Mrs. Margaret Pierson, all of Kelowna. Out of town visitors included Mr. and Mrs. Fred Murphy of Penticton; Mrs. Ethel Nielson of Vancouver and Mrs. George Ernewein of Heffley Creek, whose 35th anniversary fell on the same date. Among the many gifts received was a souvenir spoon from the city of Kelowna with a congratulatory letter from Mayor Hilbert Roth. Mr. and Mrs. Dowle have lived in Kelowna since 1946 when they retired from Winnipeg. Mr. Dowle is one of the oldest members of Branch 26 of the Royal Canadian Legion and is the honorary "old man" (Captain) of the Cutty Sark Club of Canada. Mrs. Dowle, who is now the Mother of the ladies auxiliary to Branch 26 has been, until recent years, very active in Legion functions and hospital visiting. The Dowles have two sons, Fred and Howard living in Kelowna; five grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. (Courier Photo)

ANN LANDERS

Classroom Project Sounds Like Sap

Dear Ann Landers: Please, Ann, say something in your column about teachers who make family trees a classroom project. Our little niece came home yesterday with tears in her eyes. Marianne is my sister's child. She was born out of wedlock and we are raising her. Her mother is in California and her father's identity was never made known.

Although Marianne is only nine years old she knows that her mother was never married. We wanted to adopt her four years ago when we took her to live with us but her mother would not agree to it. On Marianne's record at school, her mother is listed as Miss Alice. I warned Alice that this would be a problem, and she replied: "She'd better learn to live with it." When the teacher asked the children to draw their family tree, Marianne filled hers out as best she could. The boy across the aisle saw her tree and that started everyone else in the class to talking and laughing about it.

It is my suggestion that these days, when out-of-wedlock children are showing up in school more and more, the tree project should be abolished. Thanks for your help—if I get it.—Tarrytown, N.Y.

Dear T. N. Y.: You've got it. I've never been very excited about family trees. Too often they turn out an abundance of sap.

Dear Ann Landers: I was disappointed in your answer to the woman whose friend gave her daughter a box of dusting powder as a high school graduation gift—one she had received during a recent convalescence. You have often said in your column that a gift is what people want to give—and this time you responded with something about a "cheap streak."

I have learned not to knock the inexpensive gift. Last year in the office Christmas exchange at Christmas, I drew a little thing-a-ma-jig that looked like nothing. It was a small hook on the end of a string. Someone explained it was a zipper-pull. I thought it was a pretty crummy gift but said nothing and put it away when I reached home.

Women's Lib Is Gut Issue Not Brassieres And Garbage

By ANN KUJUNDZIC

"Women's Lib is about human dignity, and we shouldn't get side-tracked by superficial matters like brassieres and carrying out the garbage," Mary Van Stolk, well-known writer, TV broadcaster, and former model for Vogue and Harpers is a vital example of a woman who gets down to fundamental issues. On her way home to Edmonton from a documentary film assignment in Vancouver for CBC, she took time out from a heavy schedule to speak in Penticton, and drew many questions and comments from an attentive audience of men and women, including several car loads from Kelowna.

Women's Lib is about gut level issues, about the anguish of women who are oppressed, and Miss Van Stolk drew attention to the fact that women comprise by far the largest single group within the poor (as recorded by the bureau of statistics). Elderly women, single heads of households, and many wage earning younger women are in an enforced poverty situation, and contrary to most middle-class conceptions, 85 per cent of women work out of necessity, not out of desire for luxuries.

She commented that women must become fully functioning citizens in our society, and must learn to speak to the crisis issues, in which case the question "Are we equal?" becomes "What is the task to be done?"

We are not yet freed from the bondage of a traditional role-playing situation, and much of our present rebellious hysteria can be viewed as an honorable anger and rage at insults that are part of our system. But women must get beyond this anger in order to be effective in communicating and interacting in our society.

And all of us, men and women, must be liberated from useless or outdated customs and from taboos which restrict our understanding—not only of our sexuality but also of our responsibility for each other in a fully integrated social structure.

Speaking on marriage, Miss Van Stolk said that our society should not place the unfair stress of failure on those who do not succeed. A dishonest relationship between parents is likely to stunt a child's emotional development, and a mature adult must be fully aware of his or her responsibility to provide an honest emotional environment in which a child can develop healthy attitudes. The fact that so many married women suffer mental breakdowns gives us cause to re-examine the interaction of the sexes. Husbands and wives often live together for years in mutual isolation, and many times it is woman's ignorance of her own sexuality which makes her unable to help a man's understanding of it.

Thus there is a deep unexpressed anger on both sides and we end up with typical situations based on male aggression and female martyrdom.

Miss Stolk said that our culture has raised us to be terribly insecure. Let's face this insecurity and realize that as individuals we need all the more reassurance from each other because of it, and be prepared to communicate with each other on an honest, human level. We will have to take risks, and be ready to experiment with new structures for society, structures that are flexible enough to meet individual needs, whether in marriage, in the family unit, or in the economic, power and political area that is also part of our joint responsibility.

Mary Van Stolk is the author of Man and Woman and she is presently finalizing proofs on another book for the same publisher on the Battered Child.

University Women's Club Hears Speakers On Status Of Women

Meeting at the home of Mrs. W. T. Greenwood on Oct. 19, the members of the Kelowna University Women's Club heard summaries of various aspects of the Status of Women report. The chairman, Mrs. Joan Williams opened the dialogue with Women in Public Life. Guest comments and questions on speaker was Wayne Miller, Health educator, School District No. 23, who followed with a capsule review of his involvement in a study about the Status of Women Report.

Mrs. Annette Stark continued the discussion on The Family.

Child Passenger Is CAC Concern

Consumers' Association of Canada (CAC) has expressed grave concern that the Ontario Department of Transportation and Communications has given tacit approval to many child automobile restraints which have not been crash tested, or which offer less than adequate protection in accidents.

The Ontario Department of Transportation and Communications has, in recent weeks, mailed a pamphlet entitled The Child Passenger to concerned parents who request information concerning automobile restraints for their children. This pamphlet has been prepared by the Ontario Safety League and, in the opinion of CAC, contains misleading, outdated and incomplete information.

A meeting with Ontario's transport minister, Charles MacNaughton, to discuss the provision of accurate information to the public has been requested by CAC's national research committee.

Leading Lady 'At Home' In Setting Of KLT Play

Judith Cairns is Kelowna Little Theatre's leading lady and a charming lady too. Audiences will be captivated by her performances as Sandra, the social worker, who becomes at times hilariously emotionally, and tragically involved with Murray, the television writer, and Nick, his nephew in "A Thousand Clowns", KLT's upcoming play.

Judith brings a wealth of talent and experience to the show. At the age of 14 she played the part of a cockney maid in a murder mystery. The fact that she found the victim's hand in a garbage pail did not stop her from continuing a theatrical career, so in high school she added to her experience by performing in several one-act plays as well as the musicals "Oklahoma!" and "South Pacific."

After some travelling she was an announcer/operator for the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation. Following this Judith attended the Banff School of Fine Arts where she took drama and playwriting — according to Judith she played a lot and did little writing!

In 1962 she joined the staff at CFBN TV in Edmonton as a free-lance performer, announcer and writer. This stint of work included six TV series plus a daily hour-long show called "Eye Opener" that ran from 8 to 9 a.m. Further experience was gained in that very popular event, "Klondike Days".

Her keen interest in writing prompted her to join the staff of the Edmonton Journal in 1967, writing a weekly fashion column. This led to work in writing fashion commentaries and writing for local modelling agencies and department stores.

... multi-talents

Three months ago Judith came to Kelowna to find her place in the sun. She loves the people and the pace of life here. Currently she is employed by Kelowna General Hospital, which gives her time to enjoy her association with Kelowna Little Theatre.

Judith says that "A Thousand Clowns" is a delightful comedy to perform in especially since she understands the "hero", Murray Burns so well — a television writer tired and frustrated by the reality of a dollar and cents world — but laughter and imagination don't put food in the mouths of children. She knows — she's tried.

Mrs. Phyllis Trenwith Heads Pine Grove Residence Group

The first annual meeting of Kelowna Parents' Association for Pine Grove Residence was held Oct. 20 in First United Church Hall. A good turnout of interested persons were in attendance.

The president, Mrs. R. Harder gave her report and read the aims and objects of the charter.

The 'Ways and Means' report prepared by Mrs. William Dumbleton was read by Mrs. R. Hannah in the absence of the former.

The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. William Fuchs showing various projects have proven highly successful. The many accomplishments reported were proof of the continuous co-operation of the group. The latest of which was a rummage sale held Oct. 16 and was very well patronized.

Members were reminded of the fall tea, bazaar and bake sale to be held Dec. 1 in St. David's Presbyterian Hall.

Mrs. D. Worsfold was in charge of nominations and the new board of officers for the association are: President, Mrs. Phyllis Trenwith; 1st Vice-President, Mrs. W. Fuchs; 2nd Vice-President, Mrs. B. Schneider; Recording Secretary, Mrs. R. Harder; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. M. White; Treasurer, Mrs. R. Hannah. The directors are Herbert LaBounty, Gordon Smith, George Straza, William Fuchs and Mrs. William Dumbleton.

Mrs. D. McCarthy tendered a vote of thanks to the retiring officers for the splendid work they had done during the year.

Special thanks and deep gratitude go to D. C. Fillmore for preparing and chartering the association.

The ladies will hold their next meeting Nov. 10 at the home of Mrs. William Fuchs.

First Vote For Swiss Women

BERNE, Switzerland (Reuters) — Women vote in Switzerland's general elections for the first time at the end of this month, but dramatic changes in the neutral country's traditionally calm politics are unlikely.

The decision to allow 1.8 million women the vote was reached by an all-male referendum last February, reversing a similar referendum taken in 1959.

Until then, Switzerland was the only country in Europe apart from tiny Liechtenstein to deny women the vote on a national scale.

Despite the breakthrough, in the campaigning for the general elections to be held during the weekend of Oct. 30 and 31, political parties have made no special drive to capture the new female voters.

More than three million people altogether are eligible to vote for the 200-member National Council—the lower house of the Swiss Parliament. Political observers believe the result will mean the return of the four-party coalition that has been in power for 12 years.

AID TO CITIZENS

SHERBROOKE, Que. (CP) — L'Union des Citoyens de Sherbrooke (Lucides) has decided to organize a program of popular continuing education relating to the problems that face the people of Sherbrooke. Other projects planned by Lucides include organizing an information week on the rights of tenants and conducting a poll in Sherbrooke to find out the concerns of the population.

Sneakers And Raincoat: Top Cruise Wear List

Rubber soled shoes and a light raincoat that can be tucked into a purse or pocket are 'musts' if you are planning a holiday cruise this fall or winter, according to roving ambassador, Pat Feeney.

Miss Feeney who has logged millions of air miles when she was a stewardess, has nearly as many sea miles. The rubber soled shoes, she says, are much better for walking on deck and give you that sense of security needed by those who need to combat the motion of the ship. They are also essential if you plan to play deck tennis or quito, she says.

In ports of call, particularly in the tropical zone, sudden rain showers are very heavy and if you are caught without a raincoat you could be drenched. So a compact package type is a good investment, yet does not take much space.

Special prescriptions for medical needs and other supplies such as hair coloring should be packed and an extra pair of glasses, if you have them or are lost without glasses, might be a prudent precaution.

Since each passenger is allowed 350 pounds, weight is not the problem encountered in other means of travel. Miss Feeney urges women to pack two or three formals if they have them, since there are many opportunities aboard ship for party time clothes. Men should pack a tux since formal attire is the rule for dinner on the first class ticket.

For breakfast and lunch however, informal or casual wear is most popular. Many enjoy the deckside cafe, by the pool, where they can lounge about in shorts or swim wear with a coverup.

CLOTHES
The only winter clothes you will need are the ones you wear for the Bon Voyage party or boarding and again when you return. Since in two days you're in a warmer climate, a couple of sweaters will come in handy for an evening stroll. If you have a fur stole or cape, this is a wonderful accessory you will enjoy.

Milady's wardrobe for a sea voyage has changed considerably. Miss Feeney demonstrated at a fashion showing of cruise clothes, today and yesterday. In the year 1861, her list included 24 long cloth day chemises, 12 night chemises, four muslin dressing gowns, six pairs best kid gloves, 24 pairs fine thread stockings, four bonnets, six muslin morning dresses, four evening gowns, two ball gowns and one opera cloak, plus veils for Egypt, a riding habit and hat for shore excursions, a portable writing desk, two overland trunks, a portable folding chair and a life preserver.

A ladies' wardrobe check list today includes two sweaters, (one evening sweater); plastic rainwear, two bathing suits, bathrobe, slippers, head scarves, one flat evening bag, one flat day bag, dresses (four casual), cocktail dress, 12 pairs of hosiery, shoes, lingerie, gloves and slacks.

Miss Feeney points out that half the fun of a holiday is shopping so women travellers should plan to do some shopping aboard the duty free shop and at stops along the way, such as St. Thomas where tropical prints are so gay and glamorous.

DUTY FREE
The duty free shop on board is a veritable variety store, with cosmetics, clothes, film and sundries.

There are laundry facilities on board, with ironing boards. However if you choose, a stewardess will do these little chores for a small fee. There are no dry cleaning facilities, so this should be kept in mind in choosing clothes. Activities on board include cinemas, bridge, bingo, as well as nightly entertainment and dancing.

For those who love to curl up with a book, there is an excellent library and adding to complete relaxation, tea may be brought to the reading room. Coffee and juices may be also ordered in first class state rooms.

There are usually two sittings at meals, an early dinner at 6:30 p.m. for those who like to eat early and the second at 8 p.m. for people who prefer to enjoy a cocktail hour first. ## Diet Counselling Services Available For Diabetics

It is not generally known that a diet counselling service for diabetics is available at no charge to any diabetic in Canada.

This service is provided by the combined sponsorship of the Connaught Medical Research Laboratories, The Gladys and Merrill Muttart Foundation and The Canadian Diabetic Association.

Here is how it operates. The diabetic simply secures from his or her physician a prescription for the diet and sends it to the Diet Counselling Service for Diabetics, 1 Spadina Crescent, Toronto 4, Canada or in the west, 10940 83rd St. East, Edmonton 16, Canada.

This enables the counselling service to prepare a daily meal plan tailored to the prescription. In addition, four sample menus are included as a guide for future meal planning.

A booklet, "The Exchange Lists for Meal Planning for Diabetics in Canada," is also available. Careful attention to this meal plan booklet at the outset will make life easier for diabetics in the years ahead.

Diabetics are due for a pleasant surprise at the variety of foods permitted within the menu plan. Diabetic planning has come a long way since the pre-insulin days, with their austere, spartan diets which prohibited most foods.

Buckaroos Just Keep On Coming

Ken Selinger Raps Home Winner

Kelowna Buckaroos came from behind three times and finally scored while a man short with 15 seconds left in the game for their first victory of the British Columbia Junior Hockey League season, a 7-6 decision over Chilliwack Bruins.

The victory ended a five-game streak of frustration for the Buckaroos, who had continued to improve from the start of the season but couldn't quite chalk up a win.

Ken Selinger, Bucks' Rookie of the Year last season, who joined them from Saskatoon Blades of the Western Canada Hockey League, scored the winning goal on a two-on-one break with team captain Phil Blake.

It had been comeback all the way for Bucks, who twice trailed by two goal margins then were in a 6-6 deadlock when Dale Turner was detected butting at 15:22 of the final frame. The penalty left Bucks a man short for the rest of the game.

Turner scored two goals for Bucks before being caught, while Blake, Greg Fox, Bruce Gerlach and Dave Lewis joined Selinger with single goals.

Greg Reid scored two goals for the losers, with singles going to Vern Quaroni, Dave O'Donnell, Keith Richards and Rob Hesketh.

Bruins jumped into a 2-0 first period lead but had to settle for a 3-2 lead going into the second frame. They were ahead 4-2 with less than two minutes left in the middle stanza and ended the period tied 4-4.

Bruins went ahead again but Bucks tied the score at 5-5 before taking the lead for the first time in the game. It was Bruins turn to tie the score before Selinger brought fans to their feet with his goal.

As usual with his goal, he took the opposition long to get on the scoreboard. Quaroni rapped home a rebound four minutes had elapsed and Reid blasted a shot past Buck netminder Brian Edgington off a faceoff four minutes later.

Turner picked off a rebound on a shot by Selinger to put Bucks on the scoreboard midway through the first period and Blake tied the score less than two minutes later.

A deflection by O'Donnell gave Bruins the lead going into the second inning.

Bruins had scored early in the period and protected their 4-2 lead through most of the period before the Buck defence decided to get into the scoring act. Turner provided a perfect screen for Fox's low blueline shot at 18:22 then Lewis caught the top right corner with a blueline shot 28 seconds later to tie the score.

Another defenceman, Gerlach, hit the scoreboard as he tied the score at 5-5 with a

Ice Chips—Mistake in Saturday's story on the Buck-Vancouver Centennial story... quoted Charlie Huck (should have been Hodge), the Buck manager (would you believe trainer?)... Selinger has scored two goals and added four assists since joining Bucks Friday... he had three assists in addition to his game-winning goal Sunday... Blair Chapman, up from the juveniles, took the place of ailing Wayne Turner in the lineup... Blake, who joined the team after the season started, has been chosen captain in a team vote... a full house is expected for Bucks' Friday game; this team is an exciting one to watch.

Bruins Miss Clean Sweep

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Chilliwack Bruins, making their first road trip of the British Columbia Junior Hockey League season, came within 15 seconds of collecting three points from a tour of the Okanagan Sunday.

Ken Selinger of Kelowna Buckaroos made them settle for two.

Selinger scored at 19:45 of the third period to lift the Buckaroos to a 7-6 victory over the Bruins, 3-2 winners over Vernon Saturday night.

Elsewhere, Kamloops Rockets drubbed Vancouver 5-2 Sunday making it a lost weekend for the Centennials. They were beaten 6-2 Saturday night by Penticton Broncos.

Saturday night, Rob Hesketh, Garry Eccles and Ron Popadenz gave the Bruins their victory. Ed Johnstone beat goalie Lee Holum twice, out no other Vernon player could get one by him.

The Broncos were never behind against the Centennials Saturday. Ron Poole, with two goals, Ron Gerk, Mike Will, Chad Campbell and Bob Nicholson did the damage.

Constanzo and Murray Beck were the only Vancouver players to score on Garth Malarchuk, who blocked 31 shots.

Dons End Ho-Hum Season

Cubs Grab Playoff Spot

Immaculate Dons capped a ho-hum season in the Okanagan Mainline Football League with their sixth consecutive win, a 30-0 victory over Kamloops Sunday at City Park Oval.

Kelowna Cubs were happy to see their cross-town rivals win, as it gave them the fourth and final playoff spot in the six-team league. Cubs thumped Chase Trojans 30-8 in Chase Saturday to finish the season with a 3-3 record after losing the first three games.

Kamloops also had a 3-3 record, losing their final three games, but lost 28-0 to Cubs in their only meeting of the season. Cubs could have finished in third place, but Penticton beat North Kamloops 18-6 Sunday.

Dons will now meet Cubs in the first round of playoffs, while Penticton and North Kamloops decide the other final.

Dons, with their first perfect season in the win column, followed the able quarterbacking of Mark Lang, the pass catching of John Gerk and the hard running of Jerry Hayashi and Tom Ehmann as they have all season.

Dons scored all their first half points in the opening quarter, taking a 14-0 lead. They moved into a 22-0 lead in the third quarter and were ahead 30-0 before Kamloops reached the scoreboard on a one-yard plunge by Gerry Bouchier.

Dons shone on defence and offence, as the former stopped three Kamloops drives inside their own 10-yard line and the offence got the ball out of danger.

Gerk scored two touchdowns, while Hayashi and Ehmann scored the others. Chris Cowan, Hayashi and Ehmann added converts.

Hayashi opened the scoring on a 35-yard pass and run play from Lang, and Gerk made it 14-0 by catching a perfect pass from Lang for a 54-yard pass and run play.

Another toss to Gerk resulted in a 35-yard touchdown and Ehmann scooted 14 yards around the right end for the final score.

Kamloops were helped in their touchdown drive by numerous penalties to Dons. Bouchier finally cracked over from one yard out.

Dons collected 205 yards rushing, 100 of them from Hayashi on seven carries. Ehmann had 14 carries for 85 yards. Lang completed 14 of 27 passes, es, with two intercepted, for 260 yards.

Ehmann led the pass receivers with seven catches for 85 yards, while Gerk had two catches for 89 yards and two touchdowns. Hayashi picked off two tosses for 38 yards.

Jay Bovovich was the top Kamloops ground gainer with 36 yards on 10 lugs. Quarterback Randy Villeneuve tried 11 passes, completing five and having two interceptions. Ira Pratt grabbed two passes for 38 yards and Bouchier had two catches for 58 yards.

Cubs got touchdowns from three players who hadn't scored yet this year, got their high rushing total and lost one of their best backfielders in their game against Chase.

Roger Carbert romped 33 yards for his first major, Dave Grant travelled 10 yards for his and Ken Krohman, in his first game on offence, cracked over from two yards out for his touchdown. Ted Allan picked off a Chase pass and took it back 50 yards for a major and Don Gordon scored on a quarterback sneak from one yard out for the Cub's score.

Cubs rushed for 340 yards, to Chase's 145 yards, but had a meagre 12 yards passing. Chase couldn't surpass them through the air either as they gained only five yards.

Carbert was the top rusher with 94 yards on nine carries, while Dave Grant had 10 carries for 86 yards and Jim Warner gained 65 yards on five tries.

Warner was carried off the field in the second quarter with a leg injury and had a ligament operation Saturday night after getting back to Kelowna. The Grade 11 student will be missing from the lineup the rest of the season.

Cubs were missing the services of top defensive lineman Bob Hamilton and slotback Grant Brammer, both out with leg injuries. Regular quarterback Randy Klier was out suffering from a cold.

Gerry Pinder Hits News Again

Only Now He's Scoring Goals

By IAN MacLAINE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Gerry Pinder has a habit of popping up, or off, in the most unusual manner.

The 23-year-old Saskatoon native was hardly a household word after three National Hockey League seasons until last April when he earned critical acclaim for popping off at his coach.

He alleged Billy Rea wasn't using him properly in the Chicago Black Hawk lineup, that he was being ignored.

The coach can ignore me all he wants, it's his league. I feel I can play somewhere, Pinder said at the time.

The Hawks were in the midst of playoffs and, while the dispute was resolved to the point where Pinder was back on the team, it was just a matter of time before he got his chance to "play somewhere."

And when Chicago sent him to the California Golden Seals earlier this season with goalie Gerry Desjardins in exchange for goalie Gary Smith, controversy followed.

TRADE CALLED OFF

When the NHL ruled the trade void when it was learned one of the principals, Desjardins, had not fully recovered from a broken arm suffered in the latter part of the 1970-71 season and that these involved in the trade would not be able to work out with their respective teams until an amicable agreement was reached.

The two teams finally settled their differences last week and Pinder, true to his word, showed new boss Vic Stasiuk he can play hockey.

The fiery 165-pounder scored three goals and assisted on two others by Ernie Hicke as the Seals scored their first win of the season Sunday night, 6-3, over Detroit Red Wings.

The victory ended California's five-game losing string, after two ties to open the season, and were the first points for Stasiuk who took over the club 10 days ago.

In other Sunday games, Pittsburgh Penguins and New York Rangers tied 1-1, Boston Bruins edged Vancouver Canucks 4-3 in an afternoon game, St. Louis Blues downed Buffalo Sabres 3-2, Philadelphia Flyers clipped Chicago 2-1 and Minnesota North Stars cruised 6-3 over Los Angeles Kings.

In Saturday's action, Toronto Maple Leafs dropped the Flyers 5-3, Montreal Canadiens outskated Los Angeles 3-1, New York took St. Louis 4-3, Minnesota drubbed Buffalo 5-1 and Chicago beat Pittsburgh 5-2.

Pittsburgh's Jean Pronovost and Vic Hadfield of the Rangers scored 32 seconds apart for the stalemate at New York, marred by an injury to Penguins' rookie goaltender, Jim Rutherford.

Rutherford, who came up through the Detroit farm system before moving to Pittsburgh in the off-season, made a sparkling save on Rangers' Bill Fairbairn who had broken in alone. He apparently injured his right leg making the save and was carried off the ice on a stretcher.

The Bruins needed a big effort to overcome a 3-1 deficit at Vancouver. Centre Phil Esposito notched the winning goal to increase his NHL point-leading totals to 16.

The Canucks had opened a two-goal lead on Andre Boudrias score at 16:49 of the second period before goals by defenceman Bobby Orr and veteran Johnny Bucyk brought the Bruins even and kept them within a point of New York in the East Division race.

BREWER SCORES FIRST

Veteran defenceman Carl Brewer's first goal of the season at Buffalo spearheaded the St. Louis victory. Brewer's goal opened up a 3-1 lead for the Blues before Sabre rookie Richard Martin narrowed the gap with two minutes remaining.

DECISION POPULAR

The Canadians, watched by a crowd of about 3,000, started brightly when Chris Lus, 17, North Vancouver, won a popular decision in the flyweight division over Sigvard Roshag, 29, another Swedish champion.

Dale Anderson, 28, Rocky Mountain House, Alta., followed with a split decision over bantam champion Ove Lundby.

Anderson, 119 pounds, hit Lundby for a standing count in the third. This was Anderson's second win in the tour.

Packers Draw With Penticton

Kelowna Packers staked Penticton Combines to a five-goal lead then stormed back in the final period with three unanswered goals for a 6-6 draw in juvenile hockey action Saturday.

Blair Chapman scored two goals for Packers while Paul Jordan, Dave Hanson, Brad Owens and Les Strachan scored singles. Vic Turk scored four goals for Penticton with the others going to Rob Slatter and Lorne Lyster.

Combines led 4-0 after the first period and took a 6-3 lead into the final frame before Packers started their comeback.

There were only four penalties in the game, two to each team.

Orr In Second

Espo Leading

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Defenceman Bobby Orr sparked Boston Bruins to two key victories on the West Coast this weekend to keep them just one point away from New York Rangers in the National Hockey League East Division race.

Orr scored one goal and added one assist as the Bruins edged Vancouver Canucks 4-3 Sunday afternoon. His total of three goals and 11 assists for 14 points gives him a share of second place in the NHL scoring race with Rod Gilbert of New York, two points behind teammate Phil Esposito.

Rampaging Redskins Sunk

Chiefs First To Quiet Tribe

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It took a full-scale Indian war to stop the rampaging Redskins and when the dust settled, it was—quite naturally—the Chiefs who subdued the tribe.

Washington Redskins went into Sunday's National Football League action as the only undefeated team and it appeared they would stay that way as they carried a 17-6 lead into the second half against Kansas City.

But 30 minutes and three Len Dawson touchdown passes later, the Chiefs were whooping it up with a 27-20 victory.

"It's not the end of the world," Washington coach George Allen said. "We're a fine football team and we will come back. We were a team that was supposed to finish last. I'm proud of the way our team played."

In Sunday's other games, Chicago Bears defeated Detroit Lions 28-23, Miami Dolphins beat New York Jets 30-14, Philadelphia Eagles whipped New York Giants 23-7, Dallas Cowboys demolished New England Patriots 44-21, Oakland Raiders edged Cincinnati Bengals 31-27, Atlanta Falcons dumped New Orleans Saints 28-6, Los Angeles Rams shelled Green Bay Packers 30-13, Denver Broncos stunned Cleveland Browns 27-0, San Francisco 49ers slapped St. Louis Cardinals 26-14 and Pittsburgh Steelers turned back Houston Oilers 23-16.

In Saturday night's lone game, San Diego Chargers smothered Buffalo Bills 20-3. And tonight, in a contest that looms as a brutal defensive collision, Minnesota Vikings host Baltimore Colts.

Dawson, who wound up completing 10 of 23 passes for 203 yards, began hitting with consistency in the second half. He hit his favorite receiver, Otis Taylor, with scoring strikes of 26 and 28 yards and found Elmo Wright with a 15-yarder. That wiped out the first-half heroics of Washington passer Billy Kilmer, who teamed with Charley Taylor on touchdown tosses of four and 36 yards.

It was Kansas City's fifth successive triumph while Washington's streak ended at five, its best since the start of the 1940 season when the Redskins captured their first seven.

First Place Still Up For Grabs Lions Slammed By Roughies

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The hectic battle for first place remains undecided in the Western Football Conference after high-scoring weekend games which featured brilliant individual efforts and another record by Saskatchewan's George Reed.

However, it wasn't a total loss as far as the playoff race is concerned, thanks to Winnipeg Blue Bombers who took an away-from-home 19-18 win over Montreal Alouettes in a Canadian Football League interlocking game Sunday.

It was enough to clinch the third and final playoff position for the Bombers—the first time they've been in the Grey Cup battle since 1966—although they had to wait a few hours to celebrate.

Later in Regina, Saskatchewan Roughriders hammered British Columbia 50-18 to knock the Lions out of the playoffs. In Calgary Saturday night, the red-hot Edmonton Eskimos won their fourth straight with a 34-12 triumph over the slumping Stampeders.

The Calgary defeat was the fourth in six games.

TIED AT 19 POINTS

The results left Saskatchewan and Calgary in a first-place tie, each with 19 points, and both squads have one game remaining. If the teams are deadlocked at the end of the regular-season schedule, the Stampeders would get first because of a better points-per-game average in league games with the Roughriders.

In Regina, Reed shattered his backup Bubba Wyche for 24

GEORGE REED
... another record

third CFL record of the year—he also has the mark for career carries and touchdowns—as he picked up 47 yards on 11 rushes. He surpassed the previous rushing level of 10,909 yards formerly held by Johnny Bright of Edmonton and Calgary. Reed now has 10,927 yards.

But the weekend belonged to quarterback Ron Lancaster and halfback Bobby Thompson of the Roughriders and quarterback Bruce Lemmerman of the Eskimos.

Lancaster fired four touch-down passes and combined with completions in 32 attempts for 411 yards. Wyche threw one touchdown pass, a five-yarder to Gordie Barwell—his second of the game.

The fleet Thompson, playing one of his better games since joining Roughriders three years ago out of Oklahoma State, collected three touchdowns.

He got one on a 97-yard pass from Lancaster to open scoring in the first quarter, and another on a 115-yard kickoff return.

Thompson took the kick five yards deep in his own end zone and fled down the sidelines for the second-longest runback in the CFL. The longest was in 1964 when Gene Gaines, then playing for Ottawa Rough Riders, scored on a 128-yard runback.

Other Saskatchewan touchdowns were scored by Silas McKinnie and rookie Bill Macnab.

CONVERTS SIX

Jack Abendschan booted six converts and John Steele one. Punter Allan Ford got a 75-yard single.

For the Lions, quarterback Don Moorehead tossed a five-yard pass to Jim Young for one touchdown and Jim Evenson ran over from the one-yard line for the other. Ted Gerela got a 49-yard field goal and two converts while Ken Phillips kicked a 47-yard single.

The Roughriders had 30 first downs to the Lions' 22, while Saskatchewan had a net offence of 568 yards compared with British Columbia's 360.

In Calgary, Lemmerman threw two touchdowns passes, helped set up another, and scored one himself on a three-yard run.

Flanker George McGowan sparked the Eskimos with his third and fourth touchdowns of the season. His second of the night came in the third quarter on a 24-yard pass from halfback Gene Foster who took a short loss from Lemmerman.

Volly Murphy got the other touchdown for Edmonton, taking a 24-yard pass from Lemmerman, while Dave Cutler picked up 10 points on two field goals and four converts.

For the Stampeders, with veteran quarterback Jerry Keeling in the lineup following a four-game absence due to a shoulder separation, fullback Hugh McKinnis scored their only touchdown.

Meralomas To Meet Rams

VANCOUVER (CP) — Halfbacks Grant McDhurst and Craig Miller each scored two touchdowns Sunday to lead Vancouver Meralomas to a 35-0 victory over North Shore Cougars and give them the British Columbia Junior Big Four Football League championship.

The Meralomas play Regina Rams here next Sunday for the Western Canada Junior championship.

Miller scored his first touchdown on a one-yard run in the first quarter. His second came on a nine-yard run in the third quarter.

McDhurst scored both his touchdowns in the fourth quarter on 16-yard and 34-yard pass-and-run plays from quarterback Dennis Kelly. Kelly got a second quarter touchdown on a 20-yard run.

All the touchdowns were converted by kicker Dennis Messinville.

Jo Siffert Dies In Crash

BRANDS HATCH, England (AP) — Jo Siffert, called "a model to all youngsters wanting to get into motor racing" and "one of the world's best drivers," was killed Sunday in a flaming wreck of his BRM Formula 1 car.

The 35-year-old Swiss driver was burned to death under his blazing car, which crashed into a bank, overturned and exploded. He had been driving at more than 100 miles an hour in the year's last Formula 1 event.

Ironically, the race was a non-championship event organized to replace the Mexican Grand Prix in which drivers had refused to compete because of inadequate safety precautions. It was arranged as a "triumph victory" appearance of Scotland's Jackie Stewart and his Tyrrell Ford, winners of the 1971 world driving championship.

Siffert, BRM's No. 1 driver following the death of Mexico's Pedro Rodriguez, killed in a sports car race in Germany in July, was the favorite for Sunday's race after winning the pole position.

Following his crash on the 14th lap of the 25-lap event at the Brands Hatch circuit south of London, a huge black cloud rose into the air.

Pro Football In Mourning As Lions Chuck Hughes Dies

DETROIT (AP) — Words were replaced by tears and bowed heads as Detroit Lions filed solemnly from their dressing room Sunday after a 28-23 National Football League loss to Chicago Bears.

Chuck Hughes was dead.

The likable, 28-year-old Lion wide receiver collapsed on the field with a minute left in the game and at 4:41 p.m., about an hour after the game, was pronounced dead at a nearby hospital.

Dr. Richard A. Thompson, one of two team physicians, said an autopsy would be performed today but added that cause of death was likely a ruptured vessel of the aorta, heart, or possibly the brain.

Six weeks ago Hughes underwent a complete physical examination and was pronounced fit. Reporters were barred from the dressing room, where the Lions said a team prayer for Hughes and waited hopefully, but pessimistically — for news from Henry Ford Hospital of his condition.

CAUGHT PASS

Hughes had replaced injured Larry Walton in the fourth quarter and caught a 32-yard pass from Greg Landry with 1:38 remaining. He was immediately sandwiched by Bob Jeter and Garry Lyle of the Bears. The next three plays of the desperation drives were incomplete Landry passes, and it was after the third that Hughes, heading for the huddle, clutched his chest and collapsed on the 15-yard line.

"He came back to the huddle and seemed okay," a spokesman quoted Landry as saying.

Gossip Buzzes In Ottawa
Benson Won't Run Again

OTTAWA (CP) — There is speculation—a high-falutin' word for gossip—that Finance Minister E. J. Benson will not run in the next election.

The ensuing speculation is that he would be succeeded by Transport Minister Don Jamieson or Environment Minister Jack Davis.

Mr. Benson is saying privately that he has not made up his mind yet whether to run again.

If he does try again, his expected Conservative opponent in Kingston and The Islands is Flora MacDonald, a former worker at party headquarters here who now is on the faculty at Queen's University.

The Liberals are playing musical chairs again in the Commons.

But Paul Hellyer, former transport minister who calls himself an independent Liberal, won't play.

The 23 parliamentary secretaries want more prominent seats in the Commons chamber—that is, seats closer to the cabinet benches.

The key to any new seating plan is Mr. Hellyer, who occupies a front bench as a former cabinet minister.

The Liberals want to move Mr. Hellyer into the rear corner with Roch LaSalle, independent MP for Joliette. Mr. Hellyer is balking.

To complicate matters, former parliamentary secretaries don't want to give up their seats in proximity to the cabinet benches.

Northern Development Minister Jean Chretien has in effect confirmed Eric Kierans's point that northern pipelines would provide few jobs once they are built.

Mr. Kierans, former communications minister who left the government in an economic policy dispute with Mr. Trudeau, maintains that Canada should not spend billions of dollars on northern pipelines because few jobs would result after construction.

In a Commons return this week, Mr. Chretien said northern pipelines would cost some $1 million a mile. A pipeline through the Mackenzie Valley would provide only 150 to 170 permanent jobs for northern residents.

The Commons-Senate special committee on the constitution has held 140 meetings, the last 17 of them in private working over is 200-page draft report.

Committee chairman Mark MacGuigan, Liberal MP for Windsor-Walkerville, says the report will be ready next month and that he trusts it will contain some useful recommendations on how a revised Canadian constitution can be achieved.

Federal-provincial constitutional talks, derailed in June after Quebec rejected a compromise plan, may get back on the rails sooner than expected.

Ottawa and Quebec now are discussing a Quebec proposal for handling family allowances, one of the key areas in the social security field over which the province wants control.

Mr. Trudeau is scheduled to make brief trips to Montreal and Quebec City next month similar to his political forays into other provinces in recent months.

From 1967 to the end of last December, 16,465 English-speaking civil servants took French-language courses through the Public Service Commission's language training bureau.

The cost was $19,352,901. Another 1,633 civil servants in the same period took French language courses arranged through and paid for by their departments.

CONFIDENCE LACK

A large proportion of personal income is still going into insurance, into bank accounts, and other forms of personal savings, he said. This was a sign that people were hesitant about the future, lacking confidence.

How could confidence be restored?

"The important thing is to get the unemployment rate down."

"It's somewhat anomalous that even with the degree of unemployment we have, those who are employed continue to press for higher and higher wages."

John H. Panabaker, executive vice-president of the company, said one right sign is the high level of housing activity, and that there is plenty of mortgage money available for more houses.

But Mr. MacGregor was cautious. He said people are building up opposition to paying higher and higher prices for houses.

NO PATTERN

At a press conference later, Mr. MacGregor expanded on his theme that Metropolitan Life had shown its ability to grow and prosper in this country as a major independent life insurance company. But he couldn't suggest how Mel's experience could be made a pattern for other non-insurance firms in Canada.

Mr. MacGregor said Canadian corporations have been active borrowers from the insurance companies for the last year and a half of funds for expansion. But now, the climate seems to be less vigorous. Industry's demand for borrowable funds is slackening.

The chartered banks, trust companies, and other financial intermediaries in addition to the insurance companies now have ample supplies of mortgage money available for funds, he said.

Together with slackening demand by industry, this plentiful supply of loanable money seems to point to lower mortgage interest rates.

Mr. MacGregor confirmed this indirectly by saying he couldn't see interest rates going up.

WALL STREET WENT ON SKIDS

As Economy Causes Concern

NEW YORK (AP) — New York stock market prices skidded sharply lower last week as investors showed concern about the economy.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks fell 22.48 to 852.37.

There were 69.41 million shares traded on the big board compared with 61.73 million shares the previous week. The week's largest turnover was Wednesday's 16.34 million shares. The slowest turnover was Monday's 10.44 million shares.

"It would appear that the market has bottomed out now but it still has to wait for the return of confidence to the investment community," said one analyst who noted that "things are looking awfully lot better than they were a week ago."</

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH

No Danger Here To Unborn Child

By George C. Thosteson, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: A friend told me her doctor told her never to take aspirin during pregnancy. I am 4½ months pregnant but did not know it until I was pretty well along. Since the talk with my friend I have become very frightened because I have a slight case of arthritis and sometimes took two aspirin tablets a day. Not every day, but often.

Please tell me, doctor, have I harmed or deformed my unborn child?—T.L.

I doubt it. The dosage was small and occasional. And besides that, there were, unquestionably, many women who used aspirin while pregnant, back in the days before there was as much interest in birth defects as there is today. A lot of healthy babies were born, all the same.

It is true that, in the early stages of pregnancy, drugs and viral infections can cause abnormalities in the fetus. The thalidomide tragedy, some years ago, was the outstanding and shocking instance of deformity from drugs, of course. It also was a major factor in establishing interest in the effects of drugs on pregnancy.

Among viral diseases, German measles is the big spectre. But other diseases can play evil roles also. As to drugs, although we know some dangerous ones, we simply do not know enough. It will take protracted study and observation—for obviously we can't experiment in the sense of giving large doses of drugs to pregnant women just to see what will happen.

Therefore the rule for safety is for women who are likely to become pregnant to take as little medication as possible—and when they know or suspect they are pregnant, to take none without the express advice of their doctors that it is necessary. At various conferences on this topic I have heard such comments as: "No drugs at all, not even aspirin, unless there is medical need for it." I think that is sound advice.

I do not know if aspirin has been specifically indicted as causing defects, but I don't know of any proof to the contrary, either.

So while I seriously doubt that you have harmed your baby-to-be, I concur with doctors who tell their patients to avoid all drugs when pregnant, unless specifically instructed.

There's so much self-medication these days that people get into habits of dosing themselves with all sorts of drugs and mixtures, and among them there may lurk something that will deform babies.

Greatest danger is in early pregnancy, primarily the first 8 to 12 weeks.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am nursing my four-month-old baby and have not yet resumed menstruating. Would it be possible for me to become pregnant without knowing it? I am not using any contraceptives.

Also is it true that nursing a child while pregnant with another can cause a miscarriage?—K.S.

First question: yes. Second: no.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: If I got a humidifier, would it help my breathing? I have emphysema so bad I nearly choke to death.

—Mrs. D.K.

Perhaps—if your house is extremely dry (or the climate where you live) then a humidifier would be helpful. If the air is not particularly dry, then a humidifier would not help.

Best consult your own doctor, who knows the local conditions. Preferably, find a place with humidified air, and try it out before investing.

The importance of the opening lead is well illustrated in this deal from a match between Great Britain and Belgium.

At the first table, the Belgium North-South, the bidding went as shown. The British East-West pair undoubtedly did a lot of bidding with their 10 points, capitalizing on the vulnerability in an effort to steer the opponents to a bad contract. And in a sense they succeeded—for South got to seven-trump redoubled—but, unfortunately, West, faced with a difficult choice, let a diamond and declarer made the grand slam for a score of 2,930 points.

Had West led a spade, South would have gone down two—1,000 points. Thus, in one play, West lost 3,930 points!

At the second table, the bidding went: 1 diamond, 3 clubs, 3 diamonds, 4 clubs, 4 diamonds, 4 NT, 6 clubs. The Belgian West led a heart and the British declarer won with the queen, drew trumps, and then led the king of diamonds, overtaking it with the ace and hoping to run the suit.

But East showed up with four to the ten, and though South was able to dispose of two spades on the Q-J of diamonds, he lost a spade and a heart to go down one.

So the Belgians scored another 100 points to produce a net gain of 3,030 points.

Declarer could have made the slam by ruffing a heart at trick two and overtaking dummy's king of clubs to draw trumps. This method of play would have subjected him to a 4-1 trump break, but in the actual hand this course of play would have succeeded.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

GENERAL GUIDE—Announcements are due shortly reporting the demise of a powerful political figure in a foreign government notably antagonistic toward the U.S. There can be an obvious lack of information released detailing the circumstances of this passing, setting the world to wonder.

Aries (March 21-April 19). Your arguments don't necessarily need to be based on hard facts, if you're trying to get back into partners' good graces. You know what they want to hear, so accommodate them.

Taurus (April 20-May 20). Easy may have been your usual reaction, but now that you know a bit more about the nature of someone's success, the gains aren't what they're cracked up to be.

Gemini (May 21-June 21). Don't volunteer your services to anyone without knowing exactly what their motives are first. Somebody's trying to play you for a sucker.

Cancer (June 22-July 22). If love is the prime force driving you, even the most difficult and burdensome duties are made lighter. Considerable sacrifices may be required as well.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22). The most rewarding activities today are not to be ones that involve the folks at home. Don't think you're missing out on any fun by spending the evening with the family.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). You can find it easy to compromise with loved ones if you take time now to re-evaluate your position. Your present opinions are based on faulty information.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22). It will be hard to resist the urge to waste the entire day dreaming unless you shake this first-class mood, you'll accomplish nothing worthwhile.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21). You may find yourself regarded as an expert in a field where you've succeeded only due to luck. Don't give advice unless you really know what you're doing.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). As easy as it is for you to be direct and open, you're also capable of using the most deceptive tactics when they suit your purposes. Just watch your step.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). You can find certain moves thwarted now because of the earlier mistake of making a commitment too lightly. Social obligations cannot be ignored.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). When you've focused on a particular goal, you're liable to overwork everyone, especially yourself, until it's attained. You've plenty of time, so reduce the pressure.

Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20). Your prayers would be answered a lot faster if you got off your knees and got down to work instead. It'll take a lot of elbow grease to produce a happy ending.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY—Financial affairs are due to prosper this fall quarter, but by the first of the year, a deceptive influence gains strength. Don't get into the hole with creditors.

Bishop Raps Israelis

VATICAN CITY (AP)—A Roman Catholic patriarch from Egypt delivered a stinging blast at Israel today on the floor of the World Synod of Bishops. He accused the Israelis of "forcing forgetfulness" of Christianity's holy places and of ruling over non-Jews "in virtue of the right of the strongest."

The Coptic Patriarch of Alexandria, Stephen I Cardinal Sidraous, also said the world had largely ignored the "scandalous situation" of Palestinian refugees in Jordan and other Arab countries.

"These Muslim and Christian refugees are living on token alms from a world that seeks to excuse itself for its inactivity," he charged.
